British Forces Smash Forward On Italian Front

Fresh Thrust Is Made Against Germans In Castel Di Sangro Sector

ALLIED BOMBINGS ARE DEMORALIZING

By GRAHAM HOVEY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Nov. 26—British Eighth Army Forces at the center of the battlefront in Italy smashed forward today in a fresh thrust against the Germans and captured further high ground northwest of Castel Di Sangro.

Guns of the Eighth were able to completely dominate strategic German-held Castel Di Sangro.

Units of the right wing of the Eighth which crashed into the German defense line north of the Sangro river near the Adriatic coast concentrated on consolidating their newly-won bridgehead.

Headquarters reported "extremely unfavorable" weather continued across the whole 90-mile long Italian front.

Activity of the Eighth Army troops who forced crossings at several points along the Sangro was confined to patrolling and occasional heavy shelling of Nazi positions.

Artillery Exchanges

The advance in the Castel Di Sangro sector to the southwest was scored despite hampering mud, continued rains and bitter Nazi opposition.

Artillery exchanges also were reported along the Fifth Army front.

The forces of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery which seriously imperilled the easternmost flank of the Nazi winter defenses had the continuous support of the tactical air force. Headquarters said that the Nazis prisoners confirmed that recent Allied bombings on the German front-line positions were having a demoralizing effect on the Nazi troops.

Bostons, Baltimores and Warhawks maintained the heavy hasting of the Germans in the battle area.

American Mitchells bombed the port of Ancona while Royal Air Force Spitfires strafed enemy trucks near Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia. The left wing of the Eighth at the same time clashed with the German in a series of hard-fought patrol skirmishes in the vicinity of Alfedena.

(The Nazi-dominated Vichy radio reported that the Eighth had launched mass attacks in the Alfedenia sector.)

PA NEWC OBSERVES

New Castle folks will look back on the second Thanksgiving of the present war as about perfect from a weather standpoint at least. Rarely has there been finer weather on Thanksgiving Day in this area.

Quite a large number of New Castle residents took advantage of the holiday Thursday to burn up the fall accumulation of leaves on their properties, it was evident. Clouds of smoke issued from many yards about the city yesterday.

SELLING CAR MEANS SURRENDER OF GAS COUPONS WARNS OPA

PHILADELPHIA Nov. 26.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration today banned sale of used automobiles unless owners surrender unused gasoline ration coupons to ration boards.

The action, effective Wednesday, was reportedly taken in an effort to stop the illegal transfer and use of coupons worth more than 200,000 gallons annually in Philadelphia alone. About 40,000 cars have been sold in the Quaker City in the last year.

Strategy In Pacific Discussed By Raborg

(The Allies assault against Rabaul, as well as the strategy of our war in the Pacific, is discussed in the following article by Major Paul C. Raborg, noted military analyst and author of "Mechanized Might".)

By MAJOR PAUL C. RABORG

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Gasmata, New Britain has been bombed for three consecutive days. That seaport is approximately in the center of New Britain's southern coastline. It is almost due north of the Trobriand islands. That combination of locations may have great battle significance in the immediate future.

At the time General Douglas MacArthur reopened his pincer attack against Rabaul, one arm operating eastward from New Guinea and the other to strike westward from the Solomon islands, his forces captured the Trobriand islands and Woodlark island. It was then said that those groups of islands were ideal as air bases.

The Trobriand islands are less than 200 miles from Gasmata, and Woodlark is only a slightly longer distance from the same location. Both these groups of islands are well within effective fighter range from land-based planes. Rabaul is beyond fighter range from either the Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville or Finschhafen on eastern New Guinea.

Superiority Of U. S. Carrier-Borne Aircraft Shown In Gilberts Battle

YANKS MOPPING UP JAPS ON GILBERTS

By CLINTON GREEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Nov. 26.—The outstanding superiority of American carrier-borne aircraft was demonstrated today in an announcement by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz that a single United States carrier division operating in the Gilbert Islands destroyed 46 Jap planes in the space of 76 hours.

This toll of enemy craft was listed alongside the loss of three U. S. fighters and one torpedo bomber. The Jap craft which were smashed from the skies as Yank troops swept ashore to liberate the Gilberts included 34 fighters, nine bombers and three four-engined seaplanes.

Admiral Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Paficic fleet, disclosed that the same aircraft division had heavily attacked Jap positions in the Jaluit atoll in the Marshalls, conducting the first carrier assault in this area since February 2, 1942.

BRIDGEHEAD OVER SANGRO BIG FEAT

By CLARK LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY IN ITALY, Nov. 26.—Troops of the veteran British Eighth Army which drove the Nazis out of Egypt and Libya were praised today by their commander, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, for their spirited drive which resulted in establishment of a solid seven-mile-long bridgehead across the Sangro river on the eastern battlefront in Italy.

The general, meeting war correspondents accidentally during a tour of the forward areas of the Eighth Army front, emphasized that his Tommies had accomplished their victory in the face of appalling weather conditions.

Monty told the correspondents that "now that the job has been accomplished" he felt the people of England and Allied countries should be informed of the nature of the

CHRISTMAS FUNDS TO TOTAL $190,000

Thrifty Christmas savers of the county will receive checks for $190,000 beginning December 1 when the Christmas savings funds of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co., and the Peoples Bank of New Castle send out the checks.

This year the two banks mentioned were the only ones operating a Christmas savings fund. The total of the Lawrence Savings and Trust Co., fund is approximately $165,000 and that of the Peoples, $25,000.

Both banks will operate Christmas savings funds again next year.

"FEUHRER, WE THANK YOU"

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Reports from Zurich said that an old Nazi slogan, chanted by regimented millions of Germans in the days of an arrogant Adolf Hitler a few years ago, was found chalked on streets of bomb-gutted Berlin today.

The slogan:

Australian Jungle Troops Closing In On Jap Base Near Finschhafen

FRANTIC ENEMY ATTACKS REPULSED

By FRANK ROBERTSON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Nov 26.—Fall of the Jap base of Sattelberg, northwest of captured Fischhafen in New Guinea, appeared imminent today after veteran Australian jungle troops crushed a series of fanatic Jap counter-attacks.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced that the Aussies had smashed to within a quarter of a mile of Sattelberg township and had it surrounded on three sides Snortly thereafter a headquarters spokesman said collapse of the Jap hilltop stronghold, once known as Sattelberg mission, was not far distant.

Japs Repulsed

The Japs were repulsed similarly by Yank troops on the large Solomon Island of Bougainville. At Emoress Augusta Bay where American forces established a beachhead Nov. 1 Jap ground units attempted a new local counter attack from the northeast. When the smoke of battle had cleared the Nips had dropped back after abandoning 104 dead The United States Marines and Army troops extended their hold and now are in control of an area at least six miles square.

Allied aircraft were active over both fronts in support of the Australian and American ground forces.

Mitchell medium bombers and light bombers swept over the New Guinea coast from Finschhafen to smash 37 tons of bombs on Kalasa and in the Sio area. Part of Kalasa was wiped out.

Dive-Bomber Attacks

Berlin Gets Fourth Consecutive Raid—Frankfurt-On-Main Also Blasted

U. S. BOMBERS IN DAYLIGHT RAIDS

By LEO V. DOLAN
(I. N. S Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 26—Four-engined bombers of the United States Eighth Air Force blasted targets in western Germany by daylight today after the R. A. F. hit Berlin a fourth consecutive blow and blasted Frankfurt-On-Main.

American headquarters in the European theater of operations did not immediately reveal the specific targets hits by the heavy U. S. bombers which were escorted over their objectives by fighters.

Keep Up Attacks

Daylight activity in the wake of the night assaults was formidable. Great fleets of Allied planes crossed the Straits of Dover in the forenoon. The sky often was literally filled with formations of bombers and fighters coming and going over the channel.

The roar of aircraft over the Folkestone area was continuous for an hour in the forenoon.

Thirteen planes were lost in the night operations, according to the official communique.

Hardly had the night raiders returned from their targets in the Reich when strong forces of Allied bombers set out in daylight across the Dover Straits to strike at objectives on the continent.

Russian Forces Push Westward In White Russia

Some Reports Indicate That German Troops Have Evacuated Gomel

GERMAN LOSSES ARE TERMED HEAVY

By NATALIA RENE
(I. N. S Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Nov. 26.—The spearhead of Russian columns sweeping westward in a new offensive through White Russia today reached the banks of the upper Dnieper river, front dispatches reported.

The rapidly developing drive carried the forward elements to a point along the Dnieper midway between Mogilev and Zhlobin. The Red army units poured through a wide breach smashed into the German fortifications to press their march toward the Polish border.

Soviet tanks and infantry poured through the crushed Nazi positions along a 37-mile front north of the vital rail junction of Gomel which served the Germans as an important operational base.

Claim Gomel Evacuated

(A dispatch by the German controlled Scandinavian telegraph bureau reaching London via Stockholm said "the Germans have evacuated Gomel after destroying all military installations." The report added that "when the Russians enter they will find smoking ruins.")

The Soviet high command declared in a communique that its troops had smashed their way across both the Sozh and Pronya rivers in a drive which reclaimed 180 localities from the Nazis and left 2,000 Germans dead on the battlefield. The new action in White Russia, the Red army chiefs disclosed, covered a period of three days in which the Soviet troops smashed forward close to the upper reaches of the Dnieper river in gruelling combat.

The new Russian drive was loosed

Report One-Fourth Of Berlin Destroyed

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The Exchange Telegraph Company carried a dispatch from Stockholm today reporting what was termed an official German estimate of 4,300 dead and 3,800 seriously injured in this week's series of raids on Berlin, including Wednesday night's Mosquito attack.

A semi-official statement, the dispatch added, said one-fourth of Berlin was destroyed and that this included over one-half of the center of the city.

Refugees were said to be continuing to stream out of the Nazi capital still alight with fires.

CRACK TRAIN IN WRECK

Three-way wreck involving the crack Baltimore & Ohio passenger train and two freights near Newton Falls, O., took the lives of two persons and caused injuries to 40 others. According to eye-witnesses, two freights rammed into each other, wreckage being strewn on the track of the crack Ambassador of the B. & O. line. Passing at high speed, the Ambassador hit the wreckage. The diesel-powered engine turned over on its side, as pictured above, and three coaches were derailed.

Two Local Men Hurt In Wreck

Others Have Miraculous Escape In Crash At Newton Falls, O., Late Wednesday

ENGINEER IS MOST FORTUNATE

Two Baltimore and Ohio crew members were hospitalized here following the wreck at Newton Falls, O., late Wednesday night which resulted in the death of the engineer and fireman of a Pennsylvania R. R. freight and involved a B. & O. freight and the crack Diesel-drawn passenger train, The Ambassador, which plies between Detroit and Washington.

Fred R. Cooney, of 1011 Delaware avenue, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering with lacerations of the head and severe bruises. Mr. Cooney was conductor on The Ambassador and was hurled against a window which shattered and cut him about the head, and then was thrown through a doorway. He received treatment at a Warren, O., hospital and later took his train on to Pittsburgh. On his return here he was advised by a local physician to go to the hospital for a checkup.

John Freeman, of 119 North Mill street, brakeman of the freight train which was involved, was in the caboose when it was struck by the Pennsylvania train and suffered bruises and lacerations. He was able to leave the local hospital several hours after he had been admitted for treatment.

Kline To Stay And Fight Nazis

Youthful Local Air Hero Gives Up Chance To Return To States

IS STATIONED IN IRELAND NOW

Instead of returning to the states after completing the required number of combat missions earning him a rest, Technical Sergeant Louis Dale Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. L E. Kline, of R. 1314 Pennsylvania avenue, has chosen to remain on and fight the Nazis, and is now stationed in Ireland, according to word received by his parents.

Sgt. Kline who has been with the 8th Air Force in England for the past seven months, completed his 25th bombing mission as engineer and top turret gunner on October 20, in the Flying Fortress "Lakanuki," Sgt. Kline feels that he is "one of the luckiest guys in the world," to quote his own words. In the seven months he has been fighting the Nazis from the air, he has never been wounded, and has outlasted his original Fortress, "Picadilly Willie."

Members of a veteran crew, all of whom, like himself, had many missions against the Germans, they escaped the Schweinfurt raid on October 14, the crew turning their bomber over to another crew for this raid. It never returned.

Narrow Escape

On August 16, while on a raid against Le Borget airfield near Paris, in the "Lakanuki," his bomber was forced out of formation, and its two right engines were shot out by the Nazis. The bomber went into a spinning dive from 24,000 feet to pull up just about 100 feet above the earth. Six out of eight attacking Nazi fighter plane were shot down At that low height, the Nazis could not dive at them, Kline states, but

U. S. Submarines Strike Another Blow At Enemy

Seven Freighters, Airplane Transport And Tanker Sent To Bottom

PACIFIC DEFENSE OF JAPS IS HAMPERED

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—American submarines have dealt another heavy blow at Japanese lines throughout the Pacific by sinking nine more enemy merchant vessels.

This was announced today by the Navy department in a communique which said that seven medium freighters, one airplane transport and one tanker were sent to the bottom in the Pacific and Far East.

The new successes by long-range subs were considered a heavy blow to the Japanese who are being hard pressed by Allied offensives by land, sea and air forces in the central, south and southwest Pacific areas.

Raises Losses To 505

The latest action raised to 505 the number of Jap ships of all types sunk, probably sunk and damaged by American submarines since the outbreak of war.

Sinking of the nine ships also raised to at least 745 the number of Japanese ships sunk by American Army, Navy and Marine Corps surface and air forces since the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Latest Japanese reverses in the Gilberts and in the northern Solomons were believed due in large part to shipping shortage which is hindering the movement of enemy reinforcements and supplies to their beleaguered front line bases.

To date American submarines alone have sent 335 Japanese vessels, mostly merchant ships and tankers, to the ocean bottom.

Success of America's undersea campaign against the Japs is indi-

Report Thousands Of Italians Being Used In Rescue Operations In Capital

By STEN HEDMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 26.—Berlin was described today as the "most bombed city in Germany" by a German employe of the Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau, who added that thousands of Italians under military command are engaged in rescue operations in the capital.

Swedish air raid shelter experts, meanwhile, asserted in Stockholm that between 50 and 100 per cent of the houses in the center of Berlin had been bombed out in the series of RAF raids, including the shattering blows of Monday and Tuesday.

Following the Tuesday night assault, Berlin's residents were issued an extra ration of ten cigaretts and 200 grams of meat, it was learned, and promised coffee, sardines and spirits "later."

Where restaurants were destroyed, field kitchens served hot food to bombed-out residents that included 20 foreign correspondents whose homes were razed by bombs and subsequent fire.

Repatriation Of Refugees Proves Relief Problem

International Relief And Rehabilitation Council Takes Up Matter At Atlantic City

By PHILIP G. REED
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 26. —Repatriation of racial and political refugees to Axis countries by the United Nations arose today as a new problem before the International Relief and Rehabilitation Council.

The question came up in the subcommittee on displaced persons, which is primarily concerned with sending back to their homes the millions of persons driven out in the years of war and those enemy "intruders" who might settle down to become a new fifth column.

But members also asked about the fate of thousands of Jews and political enemies of the Nazi regime, many of whom had been forced into exile long before the war.

It was tentatively decided that the political exiles should be given priority for their return, according to their value to whatever democratic regime is established after the war.

Director Herbert H. Lehman, of UNRRA was reported to have argued before the committee that the return of racial refugees was also the concern of UNRRA. A final decision is still to be made, but it was said that a majority of the members favored letting the solution lie with the inter-allied committee on refugees.

ers that littered the floor of windowless rooms through which a cold wind howled.

There was no electricity, and the government spokesman read official papers by the flickering light from an oil lamp.

Among reports reaching Stockholm was one regarding a woman from Vienna who arrived in Berlin Wednesday, ignorant of the two gigantic assaults against the capital. Neither Vienna's newspapers nor broadcasts heard in that area had mentioned the bombing of the Nazi seat of government.

The everyday routine of work in Berlin virtually has stopped, fire fighting, wreckage removal and rescue work having superceded everything else. Bakeries halted operations, dairies did not deliver and residents were unable to purchase either milk or bread within the city Thursday.

One track into the Anhalter railroad station was reported still working, but the others were damaged so as to make it impossible for trains to travel on them.

STRATEGY IN PACIFIC DISCUSSED BY RABORG

eral MacArthur's final assault against Rabaul, he may make it direct by amphibious assault, or he may take two or more successive steps on the island of New Britain to gain that objective. If the latter should be the case, it is entirely probable that the main fighter attack against New Britain would be based on the Trobriand and Woodlark islands and that the first battle objective on New Britain would be Gasmata.

If the Allies, by land, sea and air attack, capture Gasmata and then build large airfields that town would be an ideal base of operations for final assault against Rabaul.

It now becomes a matter of major importance as to whether or not the Nipponese war lords will send southward strong Japanese naval units in the defense of Rabaul.

Whereas, at the commencement of our war with Japan the Nipponese may have held the balance of naval power in the Pacific, they definitely do not as of today. Japan, after her initial successes, has been fighting a defensive war, and in such a war her whole effort is to conserve her military strength until such time as the Allies assault vital portions of her empire.

Sooner or later, however, the enemy fleet must join battle with us. When that battle comes, Japanese naval strength will be broken.

RUSSIAN FORCES PUSH WESTWARD IN WHITE RUSSIA

from the vicinity of Propoisk and that city itself fell to the Red army at the start of the offensive.

On Upper Dnieper

Propoisk, district center of the Mogilev region through which the upper Dnieper flows, lies 40 miles southeast of Mogilev and some 60 miles north of Gomel, a key in the German Orsha-Mogilev-Gomel defense system. Capture of Mogilev would take the Russians across the Dnieper in White Russia and bring them within 110 miles of Minsk at the Polish border.

If the Nazis have not already left Gomel, its abandonment may be expected shortly since with the new break through from Propoisk the Gomel garrison would be caught in a pincers formed by the Propoisk column and Soviet forces which smashed northwest from Rechitsa.

Both north and southwest of Gomel, said the high command, the Russian improved their positions West of Rechitsa Russians occupied the towns of Rotova and Ostashovichi and the rail station of Osstankivichi. In seizing the latter point the Russians cut the Zhlobin-Kalinkovichi railway.

A number of other localities were recaptured along the lower Pripet river.

At the southeastern fringe of the Pripet marshes, around Korosten numerous Nazi infantry attacks were repelled.

The district center of Kurkov and numerous other towns south of Kremenchug also fell to the advancing Russian forces. The capture of Kurkov was effected after the Russians pierced a triple Nazi defense line in bitter fighting. At least 26 Nazi tanks were destroyed. German losses in manpower were termed heavy.

operations which have been going on in this sector for some time to force a passage across the Sangro only a few miles from the German's so-called "winter line".

"During the past few days," the Eighth Army commander said, "our operations have gone forward continuously despite really appalling mud conditions. The object was to get a bridgehead over the Sangro Now that has been done.

"The Germans have been counter-attacking very strongly and once or twice the lines swayed back and forth. Now we have a very firmly secured bridgehead.

"Weather conditions have been perfectly frightful. The whole river valley was a sea of mud. The river rose shoulder high as the result of storms and flowed at a rate of 15 miles per hour.

"My men were unable at times to cross the streams by wading until we strung ropes across for them.

"Our sappers did a very magnificent job and bridged the river by night.

"The whole thing was a remarkable performance. The soldiers rose to great heights."

Civilians had 16 billion pounds of meat this year—more than we ever consumed before. The "shortage" means only better sharing.

GERMANY GIVEN NO RESPITE FROM BOMBER ATTACKS

also planted mines in Nazi controlled waters while the Mosquitos tantalized seared Berlin and the heavyweights pounded the oil and chemical manufacturing center of Frankfurt-on-Main.

Frankfurt-on-Main, in Southwest Germany, also is the site of rubber manufacturing plants and aircraft factories.

Important Target

At the moment Frankfurt is even more important than before as a target since it is understood that in view of the heavy bombings of Berlin most railroad traffic to and from Switzerland terminates there.

It was understood that despite amazingly bad weather R.A.F. Pathfinders, using a newly developed technique, located the Frankfurt target successfully and enabled bombardiers of a medium-sized force to unload their explosives accurately.

It was about this time that Nazi radio transmitters left the air for the first time during the night and stayed silent for 50 minutes.

Observers along the English coast after midnight reported that bomber squadrons were winging away from England toward the southeast, and it apparently was this force which hammered Frankfurt-on-Main.

No Respite for Berlin

The Mosquito attack on Berlin was a duplicate of Wednesday's raid and was in line with the bomber command's promise that the Reich capital will have no respite until its utility as a war-time capital has been destroyed.

Advices from Stockholm quoted travelers arriving in Sweden only last night as stating that flames resulting from Tuesday's saturation raid on the Reich capital still were burning.

The night operations of the RAF came after a day of intensive raiding by American and British craft against numerous objectives in France.

Nazi raiders retaliated with minor sorties against targets in southeast England and East Anglia. London had its 668th alert of the war but no incidents occurred in the vicinity of the British capital before the all-clear was sounded.

BRITISH FORCES SMASH FORWARD ON ITALIAN FRONT

on the front close to the Adriatic stubbornly forced their way across the rain-swollen waterway to seize control of a bridgehead seven miles in length and a mile and a quarter in depth.

Repeated counter-attacks were hurled against Gen. Montgomery's troops but each in turn was beaten back. The troops were aided in their bitter struggle by intense aerial action on the part of medium bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters.

Headquarters said the conditions under which the Eighth fought forward were "exceptionally bad". The conditions for the airmen were equally unfavorable but the tactical air force went to the aid of the ground units despite the incessant downpour of rain and high winds.

Gen. Montgomery, in a special battlefront message to newsmen, lauded his troops for their feat in the face of what he termed "apalling" conditions.

The Nazis, it was learned, had been ordered to hold the forward area at all cost and fought determinedly. But the determination of the Eighth to move forward was greater and the Germans were smashed back. A headquarters spokesman emphasized that although parts of the Nazi defense line had definitely been breached there still was more tough fighting ahead on this sector.

The Eighth now has 25 miles of terrain to traverse before coming upon the next waterway, the Pescara river, crossing their route to Rome. Capture of a bridgehead here will put the Allies astride the Pescara-Rome road.

had to come after them at the same level, and they had some good shooting, knocking down six of the eight. The other two gave up the pursuit as the Fortress left the coast.

"However, our troubles were far from over," Kline relates. In addition to losing two engines, we had our vertical stabilizer just about knocked out and anti-aircraft fire had knocked a big hole in one wing So we had to hedge-hop all the way back home and finally landed on a field in South England. When the field mechanics came out to look at our plane, they just stood their gaping, marvelling at what had kept us up."

Kline, who will not be 19 years of age until next January, entered the service at the age of 16 years. He completed two years of duty last month. He was decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross when he had completed 20 missions, during which time he was credited with shooting down three Nazi fighters. He also hold the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

SCHMIDT-BLACK WEDDING AT SECOND U. P. CHURCH

On Thanksgiving Day, Miss Eleanora Louise Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Schmidt, Sr., North Mercer street, became the bride of Robert Charles Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. Esli Black of R. D. 1, New Castle, at a ceremony that was solemnized in the Second United Presbyterian church at 1:45 o'clock, with friends and relatives as guests.

The Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor, officiated, using the impressive double ring service.

The bride chose a long-bodiced white satin gown with sweetheart neckline and a finger-tip veil caught with a crown of orange blossoms, for her marriage. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and her arm bouquet was of white rosebuds and white pompons. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Helen Louise Singer, niece of the bride, was asked to serve as maid of honor. She was attired in a gown of pink crepe, toe length, and carried an arm cluster of pink rosebuds and pink pompons.

James Weingartner served as best man. Ushering were Fred E. Singer and Michael H. Schmidt.

A congratulatory period followed the ceremony, and later, a reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Fred E. Singer, E. Lutton street. A special highlight was a family dinner at the bride's home.

The bride, a graduate of New Castle high in January '41, and is employed in the offices of the Johnson Bronze Company. The bridegroom attended Shenango high. He is associated with National Radiator Company.

Following a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Black will be home to friends in their apartment at 1810 Highland avenue.

HOOVER-MARTIN WEDDING THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Hoover of New Wilmington announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Erma Louise Hoover, to Jackson A. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Martin of Sharon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Calvin Rose in the Second U. P. church on Thanksgiving Day November 25.

The bride had as her attendant her only sister, Miss Eileen Hoover; and Walter Cornwell of Sharon served the groom as best man.

Mrs. Martin is a graduate of New Wilmington high school, attended Westminster college and for the past three years has been employed as a hearing stenographer by the State Bureau of Highway Safety. Mr. Martin graduated from Sharon high school and from Penn State. He is employed by the Westinghouse in Sharon.

All-Together Club

Mrs. Angeline Lombardo, of Harrison street, received the All-Together club, Wednesday evening in her home.

Card playing was the pastime, high score prizes going to Mrs. Teresa Long and Mrs. Mary Ross. The club token was captured by Mrs. Elizabeth Cubellis.

Special guests were Mrs. Clotilda Ross and Mrs. Mary Anzalone, and they received gifts.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, aided by her daughter, Mrs. Tobe Fenati, and Mrs. Lena Lombardo.

Mrs. Teresa Long, of Pollock avenue, will entertain the club on December 9.

Section D, Y. L. B.

Section D of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church met at the home of Mrs. C. H. Houk, 1005 Adams street, Wednesday evening for a social meeting. In serving lunch the hostess was aided by her granddaughter, Verna Newton.

Next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. E. M. Weir, 1009 Adams street.

BALL-McCLURE CHURCH WEDDING

At a candlelight service at the Second United Presbyterian church at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, Miss Nancy Jane Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Ball, became the bride of Joseph Warren McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. McClure of New Wilmington. Rev. J. Calvin Rose performed the ceremony before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums, palms, and ferns, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of pale pastel blue velvet with a matching halo headdress, from which fell a fingertip length veil of the same tint. She carried a colonial bouquet of pastel flowers and wore a strand of pearls that was a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Richard Louer, matron of honor, wore wine velvet of a style similar to the bride's with a headdress of pink ostrich tips. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink flowers. Donald Kenehan served as best man. Ushers were Carl Bonaquist of Hubbard, O., and William Briggs.

A prelude of organ music preceded the ceremony and appropriate music during it was played by the church organist, Mrs. Chester C. Shaffer.

Following the ceremony, there was a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Graham, 215 East Wallace avenue, for 50 guests. Buffet refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. McClure are now on a wedding trip to New York City. After December 1 they will be at home at 1611 Highland avenue.

Mrs. McClure is a graduate of New Castle High school. Mr. McClure, a graduate of New Wilmington High school and Penn State college, is a flight instructor for the naval reserve at New Castle airport.

BERRESFORD-WIMER ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Entertaining informally in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd G. Berresford of the Koppel-Wampum road, their only daughter, Betty, recently announced to a circle of friends, her engagement to William Wimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Wimer of 2921 Fifth avenue, Beaver Falls.

In the five tables of contests provided, participants competing for honors were from Ellwood City, New Brighton and Beaver Falls.

Aided by her mother, the hostess and Mrs. H. H. Wimer served a delicious repast.

News of the couples betrothal was cleverly revealed when a tray of heart shaped cookies tied with dainty bows of blue ribbon, on which dangled little capsules. Inside were concealed slips of paper reading "Betty and Bill—Mid-December."

The prospective bridegroom is stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., with the U. S. Armed Forces.

MAHER-YOUNG WEDDING ON THANKSGIVING DAY

In St. Mary's church before the candle lighted altar beautifully embanked with ferns, palms and green foliage off-setting an arangement of white flowers in tall standards, nuptial high mass was celebrated on Thanksgiving morning, November 25, when Miss Patricia Joan Maher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Maher, West Washington street, and Thomas Dale Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Young, Highland avenue, were united in marriage. Vows were exchanged at 9:30 o'clock with the Rev. Fr. Leo S. Watterson officiating in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives.

The boys vested choir provided appropriate music, with Frank S. Cribben at the console.

At the sound of the processional selection, the bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She was attractive in a wedding gown of white damask brocade fashioned with fitted bodice, drindl skirt made entrain, featuring a sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves with points-over-wrists. Her illusion double circular over-the-face-veil fell from a jeweled tiara edged with seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book, which too is a treasured sentimental possession of the bride's family. Encrested with a single orchid with streamers, it had had been carried by her two sisters and sister-in-law respectively, Mrs. Francis J. Quinn, of Avalon, Mrs. James R. Rote and Mrs. Robert E. Maher, of this city, at their weddings.

Miss Helen L. Maher as maid of honor, wore an minute blue faille taffeta gown patterned with basque waistline, trimmed with a ruffle of the material, and the entire back of the skirt was a cascade of ruffles. Adorning her head was a Juliet cap of silver sequins, and she carried an arm bouquet of red roses.

John J. Brice, this city, served as best man. Ushering were Francis J. Quinn, of Avalon, and James E. Maher, New Castle.

Congratulations were received in the church, and afterwards, a wedding breakfast for the immediate families and bridal party was served at The Castleton.

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Young departed on a wedding trip. Upon returning here, they will be "at home" to friends in their newly furnished apartment at 204 West Grant street.

A graduate of New Castle high, the bride is employed with Watkins Agency. The bridegroom, also a graduate of New Castle high, is appliated with Anderson-Anderson Grocery of this city.

WILL CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

BARBARISM'S DENOUEMENT

A REPORT from the Chinese high command to the effect that the Japs again have been resorting to poison gas by way of checking China's counter thrusts should come as a sharp reminder to the United Nations everywhere. In their last desperate attempt to stave off absolute defeat, the Axis, both in Europe and the Orient, may be expected to throw international codes to the four winds and abandon the final vestige of civilized procedure.

Allied leaders have warned on several occasions that gas attacks by the enemy will be met like for like. And there is not the slightest doubt that the American chemical warfare experts, as well as those in Britain, are thoroughly prepared for such an emergency.

The news from China is not reassuring. It may be that the world has reached the stage of undisguised brutality brought about by the frenzied efforts of despairing megalomaniacs to accomplish that which reason so plainly denies.

VICTORY GARDENS

Victory gardens of 1943 are a memory, save as their bounty stands neatly shelved in row on row of jars put by against the winter. Men and woman who toiled in the sun have long since lost the stiffness of muscle and joint that came with the first work of that kind—for most of them—in many years. Now statistics are released to tell how well they sowed and reaped.

James H. Burdett, director of the National Garden Bureau, is authority for the statement that Victory gardens produced 42 per cent of all vegetables grown in 1943. Total production was estimated at 18,775,000 tons. Of this, Victory gardens on farms yielded 4,740,000 tons and non-farm Victory gardens 3,200,000 tons. Even if it is concluded that the "amateur" Victory gardeners were those who worked in the "non-farm" category, they still did a tremendously effective job.

GREATEST AIR ARMADA

At various times in recent months London has reported raids upon Berlin and other targets in Germany by the "greatest air armada" of the war. In the earlier days this characterization was applied to flights by three or four hundred planes. Gradually the number has been increased as United Nations air power has developed.

One of the most devastating raids, made in September, was by a fleet of 600 planes. The most recent attack, made by R.A.F. heavy bombers, is reported to have been carried out by approximately 1,000 planes.

Regardless of whether the stepped-up air offensive against Germany is considered as a preliminary to invasion or as merely a part of air force routine, its material and psychological effects cannot be less than devastating. If the United Nations are finding it possible to add new hundreds of planes to their attacking force over Germany, the time will come when an armada will consist of 1,500 or 2,000 planes, with the result that within a few hours a merciless rain of fire and steel will destroy a whole city.

The prospect is one to terrorize the high command and the people of Germany, and it is quite significant that the Stalin enthusiasts in Allied countries, who in their insistence upon a second front in western Europe have attempted to minimize the importance of air attack as a contribution to victory, have become decreasingly vocal of late.

DRIVING THE WAR HOME TO BERLIN

Shattered and stunned by the greatest bombing attacks of all time, Berlin today is a ghastly warning to Nazi Germany and to war-crazed Japan that the United Nations are resolved to crush, once and for all, the sources of Axis poisons.

At Berlin, as at Hamburg, Cologne, Essen and many other cities, the meaning of the war which they permitted their criminal leaders to unleash upon the world is being brought home to the German people. In World War I Germany's homeland was left virtually inviolate by the Allies.

From all accounts the British smashes are heavier than any of Hitler's blows at London, and there is no reason to believe that the Allies have finished with Berlin. That is as it should be. Berlin is the heart of Nazism. If Berlin, along with the Ruhr arms plants, has to be wiped off the map to end the scourge of Naziism, and, if possible, to prevent future wars, so be it.

With winter close, the German people are being given notice not to expect seasonal letups in air attacks. How long can they stand the kind of pounding Berlin is getting? Such speculation serves no good purpose. What is imperative is that the bombings be kept up until the Allied armies are able to invade Germany and march in force to Berlin.

Allied propaganda, meanwhile, should take pains to make known to Japanese all possible details about the fury of the German bombing attacks. What Berlin, Hamburg and Ludwigshaven have received, it should be made clear, are in store for Tokio, Kobe and Yokahama.

'ORGANIZING' ASIA

From the time of Pearl Harbor Japan has been engaged in a race to organize Asian resources for war and thus prolong the conflict. The Nipponese have been working assiduously at the job of molding a "greater East Asia co-prosperity sphere" into an offensive unit against the United Nations. Territorially Free China is now virtually the only stumbling block. The degree of willingness of the other peoples of Asia to cooperate is not clear.

The other day Japan held in Tokyo an "assembly of the greater East Asiatic nations." Representatives of the puppet governments of Manchuria, occupied China, the Philippines, Burma, Malaya and Thailand attended. To most of these Japan has granted "independence." Japanese told the delegates a free and independent government was to be set up for India.

Reception of the spurious promises by peoples involved is important because the Allies will invade those countries in the progress of the war. Hostile or even neutral populations would multiply the Allied military problems. And after victory the nationalistic aspirations Japan is stirring up may prove to be troublesome.

The pattern of Japanese "freedom" has been made thoroughly plain in Manchuria. There is a puppet Manchu emperor, but the Japanese control all industrial and commercial enterprises and dominate the police forces. Drugs and vice are encouraged to rob the natives of their will to resist. These things may be well known throughout East Asia. If so, the enemy is likely to find it difficult to initiate a wave of pro-Japanese sentiment.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CURB CHILD'S TONGUE

It is distressing to read letters from so many mothers telling of children who call them all sorts of vile names. The child who in his teens curses his parents is no easy problem. Parents who up to then have lost respect and control of their child can hardly hope to accomplish much by force. Yet I believe it is never too late to change a child if his parents are masters of their own emotions and are able to see the best in this youngster and capitalize it.

In desperate cases much might be accomplished through a quiet loving word by the parent when this parent is most persuasive and the child most receptive. Such a time may come after a period of days during which there have been no word-battles, though this achievement is not easy, as many parents know.

Wiser Discipline Needed

hese serious problems never would have risen if, during the childs' early years, there had been wiser discipline of him and more understanding and appreciation of him by his parents. After all wise discipline is a good balance of love and restraint. The trouble is that many parents who have tried hard to be good parents have been led by some writers and teachers on child rearing to believe they must discipline the child without restraining him, especially without using the commonsense tools of restraint such as spanking.

What mother can always be gentle and lovely to a child who has not learned to respect. No? What mother can always be affectionate to a brat? His constant disobedience vexes her and she in turn vexes him. They constantly get on each other's nerves. The first essential to abundant affection for the young child and enjoyment of him is his early effective control.

"Meaning of NO"

Therefore, in order to train the child from his early years so he won't call you or other persons ugly names or speak abusively to you or them, you must train this child early in the unambiguous meaning of NO (rarely heard of course). My special bulletin, "How to Teach Tot the Meaning of NO," may be had for postage by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a three-cent stamp on a self-addressed envelope.

When, for example, your youngster three or five calls you or anybody else in your presence a dumbbell or fool, put him over your knees as quickly as possible and spank him. Make it hurt. Permit no exception. See that this pain shall follow the offense as instantly and surely as if he had touched a slightly-charged wire. Having established control then, you might be able, even if the child is 10 or 12 when beginning to abuse you with his tongue, to prevent growth of this nuisance by assigning him to sit in a chair doing nothing where you can see him for exactly two hours, or to write the abusive expression on wrapping paper 1,000 times to make the ugly expression unattractive to him. Needless to say, we parents must control our own temper and tongue.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Please offer a few suggestions for foster parents who board and care for children from an orphanage.

A. Guide and discipline him as if he were your own child. Try to make him feel he is one of the family. Provide him with abundant understanding and affection and with opportunity to play freely with other children of his age. When he is disobedient, never threaten him that he will be sent back to the "Home".

Q. My daughter 12 years old telling about a movie she has seen, goes on and on and takes so long at it that she almost drives me to distraction.

A. Please don't treat her so unkindly. When you are very calm and she is about to recall some observation and experience, ask her quietly to think of the main things she wishes to tell and to try to make her account shorter than usual. You might even induce her to hold herself to five or eight minutes by the clock for relating it. Learn to listen attentively and enjoy her account so she will feel more comfortable and be more able to be brief.

Sun sets tonight, 5:38. Sun rises tomorrow, 7:57.

Pennsylvania will have only one auto license plate in 1944. That will be plenty.

The toughest road to travel will be the road to victory.

More people are now working in this country than ever before. There is also a good reason for more people working.

Our descendants, 100 years from now, according to a noted biologist, will be at least seven feet tall. Bet they won't have any bigger wars than we have, though.

The end of the war would be a great Christmas gift.

JUVENILE LOGIC

Little Betty, returning from school one afternoon last week exclaimed "Johnny Wilson's examination papers were so good that teacher keeps them on her desk to show visitors."

Naturally her mother asked about her own papers and little Betty had to confess that they weren't so good.

"But why aren't yours as good as Johnny's?" her mother asked. "You have the same opportunities dear."

"I know, mother," said Betty gravely, "but Johnny Wilson comes from a very bright family."

The object of a round table discussion, as we understand, it is to give both sides of a subject a square deal.

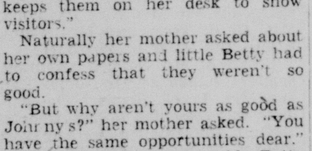

Our forefathers had to hunt for their food and clothing while its our grandchildren's foremothers who now hunt for steak and stockings.

A nobody is a person who is discussed over the neighbor's back fence. A somebody is a person who makes the first page.

A local gal said, "Well, of all the beastly luck! To find a match for this sample at the very first store I go to."

Wouldn't it be great if we really knew just what to do?

There's a real spy scare in a North Hill home. Junior was caught trying to get into a locked closet suspected of containing Christmas packages.

One thing you can be sure of next year and that is there will be plenty of politics, war or no war.

Save everything before you have nothing to save.

Strangely, it is love that enables a hell-cat wife to ruin a man. If he didn't love her, he could brush her off and not care.

SERVING DINNER WITHOUT MAID

"Heretofore, I have always had a maid serve my dinner; but like most other housewives, I am now cooking and serving my own. Can you tell me how to graciously serve a servantless meal when I have guests and wish to have as little 'getting up and down' as possible." — Hostess.

Answer: As many items as possible should be on the table before the guests are seated that the hostess may be subjected to a minimum of "ups and downs."

The table should be completely set in the conventional manner. At each place should be all of the silver required for the meal. Water goblets should be filled, bread and butter should be on the individual plates, and the salad should be at each guest's place. All these should be on the table and the dessert plates, coffee cups and service and fingerbowls placed on the serving table before dinner is announced.

A three-course meal will save the hostess many steps to and from the kitchen. As a first course, serve fruit or tomato juice cocktails (if you have sufficient ration stamps). Hot soup adds complications to the servantless dinner, for it must be served after the guests are seated.

When this course is finished, remove the dishes. A pile of dinner plates should then be placed in front of the host, who will apportion the meat and vegetables and pass the plates to the women first and then to the men. They may be passed either to the right or to the left. The table should be crumbled after the dishes of the main course have been removed. The dessert is then served.

With this three-course dinner, it will be necessary for the hostess to leave the table only twice.

The hostess may have, for convenience, by her chair a set of shelves, the top row of which should be used for fresh plates and the lower for used plates, which will save her a few steps.

Carving may be done in the kitchen or at the table, as preferred.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Marine Private First Class E. L. of Tishomingo, Okla., is a paratrooper who made fourteen jumps from airplanes and landed without a scratch.

He fought Japs galore and never sustained the slightest injury.

Then he slipped on a ldg while on Vella Lavella Island in the South Pacific, broke his leg and will be out of commission for quite a little while.

Just a new version to the old story that more people get hurt in their own homes than in battle.

Familiarity breeds contempt—also an old saying, but it couldn't have gotten so old if it weren't so true.

Just think back at the many times you hurt yourself just by being careless.

You cut a slice of bread. Your mind isn't on the knife, but on that delicious slice of ham, that crisp leaf of lettuce, that golden yellow layer of butter.

Your mouth begins to water, you close your eyes in delicious anticipation, "ouch," you've cut your finger.

You are chasing after little Eddy all ready to give him a good scolding for some childish thing he has done.

You are mad clear through, like a darn fool, you slip over his toy jeep, sit down with a bang—and you know the rest.

But all accidents don't consist of cuts and bruises.

Many other kinds of accidents are caused by carelessness, accidents that may be much more lasting.

Careless words won't cut your finger, but they may cut your heart so that it will never heal.

"Lack of consideration of other peoples' feelings may not break glass, but it is very apt to break many friendships."

A wedding anniversary forgotten a word of praise left unsaid may not burn your arm or sear your hand but it may well leave a deeper burn that leaves its mark forever on some dear one's soul.

It's easy enough to watch out for the big things in life. It's much harder to be careful in the little ones.

You may be a hero in the eyes of the world—and then you may stumble over some little insignificant toy.

To keep your eyes open is not enough.

Keep your heart open as well. Remember that the deepest hurts don't show on the surface!

PRIDE OF SERVICE

Just take it from the sailor: it's the Navy that is tough.
They'll hand it to the Axis, till the Axis cries enough!
The Navy has tradition, from the shoulders trimmed with gold
To the youngest tar among them, doing service in the hold!
Stop the first one that you come to who has leave ashore to be
And that sailor boy will tell you: wars are won upon the sea!

But the lad who packs a rifle has a different song to sing.
He will tell you that the Army in the war is everything.
It's the soldier in the foxhole, and the soldier standing guard,
And the boys in all the branches who are trained to fighting hard!
It's the lads who fight in khaki and get stripes upon their sleeves,
It's the Army that will win it! every one of them believes!

So it is throughout the service. Ask the boys who wear the wings
And they'll tell you it's the Air Corps that is really doing things
But some chap adorned with ribbons who has learned what battle means
Will insist on giving credit to the "first on hand" Marines.
And I think that's how it should be. I would want that boy of mine
To believe his branch of service is the finest of the line.

C. I. O. President Philip Murray: "Nineteen forty-four is going to be a crucial year on the military and domestic front. Inside Washington

Republicans And Democrats In Subsidy Fight
Washington Residents Develop New Language
White Collar Workers Get Pleasant Surprise

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—A rehearsal of one of the important features of the 1944 presidential campaign is taking place in congress. It is in the form of the battle over food subsidies.

With victory next year a distinct possibility, Republicans are taking full advantage of the political implications in the subsidy issue. And Democratic leaders in house and senate are trying to checkmate them.

Strategy of the Democratic leaders is to work for a compromise that will permit continuation of food subsidies on a modified basis. Republicans oppose a compromise. Their argument is that payment of subsidies to hold down prices is a fundamental issue that cannot be compromised.

If Democratic leaders have their way, a bill will be passed before Christmas continuing the life of the Commodity Credit corporation and providing for continuance of the subsidy program through 1944 on a modified basis. That would end the battle.

But right now it appears that Republicans and farm bloc Democrats will have their way. In that case, congress will pass the CCC bill, with a ban on payment of subsidies after January 1. The president will veto the bill, and congress in all probability will fail to pass it over the veto.

That would kill CCC. But nobody wants to kill the agency, which is highly valuable to farmers. So to keep it alive, congress would again pass a resolution extending its life for three or four months.

Democratic leaders don't want that to happen. The battle would have to be fought all over again in three or four months. The Republicans again could picture the administration as hostile to farmers.

In this way, the Republicans could lose each time, the subsidy program could be continued, and the Republicans could picture the administration each three or four months of a presidential election year as antagonistic to farmers.

War agency and federal department executives, press relations men and other employes would be practically speechless if they suddenly found themselves without the intricate pattern of Washinftonese built up recently.

For instance, without the words "overall picture" to describe a general situation the Washington government man presumably would be unable to carry on. The phrase must be used thousands of times daily in the capital.

Rare also is the bureau chief or employe who doesn't speak of his place of employment as his "shop," talk about things at federal, state or local "levels," speak glibly about "directives" or about "spelling out" anything from the general situation in cranberry production to synthetic rubber problems.

White collar workers got a surprise invitation to a wage increase from none other than WLB Chairman William H. Davis—the administration's No. 1 wage freeze expert.

Davis, who still adheres firmly to the "Little Steel" formula, takes the position that most industrial workers have received the full 15 per cent pay boost allowed by the yardstick, but that white collar wages lag behind.

Hence, he said, the "Little Steel" formula can now be construed as "holding the door open" to white collar employes and other "underprivileged" workers to obtain the 15 per cent boost permissable since Jan. 1, 1941, if they haven't had it yet.

If the white collar workers ever gets his employer to offer that increase, he is free to take it," Davis said. The WLB chief admitted, however, that white collar workers could not come individually before the WLB since there were "too many of them and not enough WLB."

About the only way they can get the increase, he argued, is to "join an organization" or go to work for someone else who will pay it. On the latter, however, Manpower Boss McNutt's order against shifting jobs for higher pay interferes.

Finally, the "Little Steel" formula doesn't mean that each individual white collar workers is entitled to a 15 per cent pay increase since Jan. 1, 1941, but rather that the "group" as a whole is entitled to that average raise to offset higher living costs. This may be interpreted by WLB to apply to all of the white collar workers of a single company, or single department, etc.

THUMB SUCKING

Thumb sucking is a fairly common habit in babies and children.

Sometimes parents are much worried about it.

It seems as though there is not much cause for worry. People who sucked their thumbs when they were babies seem all right now.

They have good straight teeth. They do not show any damage from thumb sucking.

Perhaps the best way is to not pay any attention to it.

They usually stop the habit after awhile.

See that the baby gets the proper amount of the right kind of food. Be sure that he sleeps enough hours. Give him plenty of sunlight. If he eats and sleeps and grows, the thumb will not cause much trouble.

Great Game Of Politics

Senatorial Courage

Washington, Nov. 26.

WHILE OUR soldiers were abroad in the last war there was no Presidential election and, in consequence, the question of extending the franchise to the men in the services, registered and unregistered, did not arise. This time things are quite different. This time a very important election for President will be held and the question becomes acute.

IT GOES without saying that practically everybody is in favor of the soldiers and sailors being allowed to vote, if a fair, practical and legally sound way can be devised to permit it. But there is very, great question that the pending bill, sponsored by two New Deal Senators, provides any such way. Yet, so great is the fear of the politicians (particularly those who expect to run for office in 1944) that someone may accuse them of trying to prevent the soldiers from voting that, though the faults of the bill are glaring and grave, until a few days ago not a voice in either branch of Congress was raised to indicate them. From the complete silence of the members on this subject one would have thought this the perfect bill. It is anything but that.

THEREFORE, it seems very greatly to the credit of Senator Robert Taft, of Ohio, who himself will be a candidate for reelection next year, that he was the first to point out publicly the manifest defects in the Green-Lucas proposals. Personally Mr. Taft is for the soldiers voting, but he declines to keep silent about the manner in which it is proposed to make it possible. In a recent interview he made four trenchant objections to the bill in the hope that they would be removed by amendments. Some progress in the direction has already been made. Senators Vandenberg, Austin and others are helping straighten out the kinks.

FIRST Senator Taft pointed out that the bill fails to provide for a completely fair commission to supervise the voting; that the commission as proposed should have greater authority over the distribution of political information to the soldiers; that should the commission certify that there was not substantial compliance with the voting law by officials in any State, it might result in the entire vote of such State being declared invalid.

SECOND, that the only names on the ballot will be those of the candidates for President, and thus candidates for Senate and House forced to remain anonymous and deprived of any strength they may have through their record or personality.

THIRD, there is no provision by which the candidates can reach the voters. Thus, the Administration would have a tremendous advantage in indirect electioneering. Though the OWI has been forced to turn the job of directly supplying information to the troops over to the army, it still remains a channel by which the troops can be reached and its pretensions of nonpartisanship are absurd.

FINALLY, Senator Taft contends there is serious doubt of the constitutionality of the bill. The Constitution provides that "each State shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct a number of electors. . . . The Congress may determine the time of choosing the electors." Express power is given to Congress to regulate the manner in which Senators and Congressmen are elected, but no such power is given regarding Presidential electors. The claim is that all this is overriden by the war power, but, Mr. Taft points out, it would be very unfortunate to have another Hayes-Tilden controversy based on the constitutionality of this law, develop.

IT IS Senator Taft's contention that the bill as it is is a dangerous bill and should be amended before it is passed. In this view many of his colleagues concur privately—but not publicly. The unpleasant fact is that they hesitate to object to its obnoxious and unworkable features through fear that, in their States or districts, demagogic opponents may arise to say that they want "to disfranchise our boys who are giving their lives to save the country from a cruel and ruthless enemy"—or some other such twaddle. In view of his own candidacy one has to respect Mr. Taft's kind of courage.

Hints On Etiquette

If you are one of those people who is always "flying off the handle," at irritating moments, try to remember to smile instead of getting angry. It is much more polite and you know the saying about the soft answer that "turneth away wrath."

Gov. Earl Warren of California: "The veterans will be entitled to anything a grateful nation can give them. They must come back to more opportunity than they ever had before they left for overseas."

Winston Churchill: "No one can tell at what moment resistance of the enemy may break. That is not our affair—it is theirs.

ARMY CARRIES THE MAIL, NO MATTER WHAT

By WILLIAM W. WADE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH U. S. ARMORED FORCE UNITS, Somewhere in England—Running an army post office for thousands of mail-hungry soldiers far from home is not an easy matter, and First Lieut. Raymond Davey of 8464 251st St. Bellrose, L. I., expects things to get worse in his post office before they get better.

Davey is postmaster for this armored force outfit, and he has enough troubles while the unit is based in Britain in a relatively static position. But when the tanks begin to roll his headaches will begin in earnest.

A former employe of the general post office in New York City, Davey's staff is composed mainly of other mailmen from civilian life.

Some Of Personnel

They include Sgt. Ray L. Main who worked in the post office in Hamilton, Tex., Corp. Grady R. Williams, assistant postmaster at Boydell, Ark.; Pvt. Edward J. Fencil for the post office in Seneca, Ill.; Corp. Thomas M. Rotella, former special delivery messenger from 814 North Central avenue, Chicago; Warrant Officer Albert J. Noto, St. James, La.; Staff Sgt. Raymond P. Ashlund of New York City; Sgt. Edward L. Heaghney, St. Louis, Mo.; and Corp. Floyd Fetterly, Utica, N. Y.

Lieutenant Davey said that when the armored outfit goes into action he and his staff will set up their headquarters at the railhead or truckhead—as they have already done on maneuvers—and pass up the mail no matter how hot the battle gets.

"We consider mail almost as important as food," Davey said. "In Tunisia they passed up letters along with rations and the troops got their mail in the front lines without even waiting for a break. We expect to do the same thing."

This army post office performs all the functions of a normal civilian post office, selling money orders, maintaining a directory service, investigating complaints of losses and a dozen other items.

In addition the staff has to put up with a continuous stream of criticism from fellow soldiers who are sure that their girl friends, their families and acquaintances MUST have written.

Davey summed up this kind of army grousing—done by everyone from privates to generals—thus:

"Little Joe Private down in company A will get twelve letters one day and not get any for a couple of days and then he says the mail service stinks."

War Casualties Now Total 121,319

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — Announced casualties in all armed services of the United States since Pearl Harbor total 121,319, with the army bearing the greater share—89,650 as of November 11.

But the statistics show that of those killed in action there is a difference of only 42 between the army and the navy, with the navy having the larger loss—12,883 to date.

The army's total of 89,650 listed 12,841 killed; 30,263 wounded; 23,954 missing and 22,592 prisoners.

The navy's 31,669 total gave 12,883 killed; 5,640 wounded; 8,918 missing and 4,228 prisoners. Navy figures include the Coast Guard and Marine Corps.

Leave No Main Street In Tokyo Urges Admiral

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(INS).—Rear Admiral Thomas L. Gatch said today that if General Pershing had marched his troops through Berlin after the last war we would not be at war today.

In an address at commencement exercises for 970 graduates of the U. S. Naval Midshipman's school in New York, the judge advocate general of the Navy said the "shameful misuse" of victory after the last war was responsible for today's conflict.

"I do not advocate," he declared, "that we march an American army down the main street of Tokyo . . . I merely advocate that, when this war is over, there be no main street of Tokyo to march down."

Gatch, who commanded the battleship South Dakota when it made naval history in the South Pacific as "Battleship X," blamed pacificists and his own generation for allowing the present war to come about.

Investigation By Police To Be Probed In Bahamas House

NASSAU, Bahamas, Nov. 26. —(INS)—Probe of police investigation of the Oakes murder case is scheduled when the Bahamas house of assembly convenes Nov. 29, it was learned today.

Sharply critical of the way in which Count Alfred De Marigny's prosecution was handled, the assemblymen are reportedly anxious to question Atty. Gen. Eric Hallinan.

Police action after the body of Sir Harry Oakes was found in his palatial estate on July 8 was likewise slated for searching scrutiny.

Hallinan, who represented the Crown at the 22-day trial, it was reported, will be asked why Col. R. A. Ershine-Lindop was not called as a witness.

Col. Lindop was in charge of the murder investigation at the outset, but was later transferred. Jurors at the trial publicly asked why he had not been called to testify.

The Bahamas house of assembly corresponds to the American congress.

MAN IS SLUGGED; THROWN FROM CAR

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—(INS)—An Allison Park man was taken to St. Francis Hospital in a serious condition today as a result of injuries received when he was slugged and thrown from a car, Pittsburgh police believed.

Police found Pierce after receiving a phone call concerning a body lying beside Bigelow Boulevard. A pool of blood about 75 feet from the body as well as tracks leading to it and marks on Pierce's clothing led police to believe the body had been dragged.

The victim suffered a possible fractured skull, fractured right hand and bruises about the face and legs. Cash and jewelry were found on the body indicating there was no robbery motive.

New High Business Records Are Reached

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—(INS)—New high business records were reached in the Pittsburgh district last week, the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Pittsburgh announced today.

Pronounced gains in industrial production, originating shipments and trade volume were reported.

The bureau's business index' after seasonable change adjustments, stood at 176.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average last week, compared with 166.8 and 144.1 respectively in the two preceding weeks, when strikes closed the district's coal mines.

The previous business peak was reached in mid-February.

Coal production increased to near last year's best levels, with further gains expected. Steel mills operated above 100 per cent last week. Electric power sales set a new high record. River and rail shipments increased sharply.

OREGON FARMERS SET PRODUCTION GOALS

CORVALLIS, Ore. — (INS) — Emphasis on production practices that will help Oregon farmers replace "manpower with landpower" features the 1944 AAA program recommendations of the farmer committeemen who administer the state's program.

The state committee's recommendations, based on views of county committeemen and prepared with the assistance of a technical group of Oregon State college specialists, would encourage wide use of pratices that will increase or maintain the per-acre war food production strength of Oregon farmland.

Special emphasis is asked for a group of practices that will increase production of forage crops needed to feed the state's record number of livestock. These practices include seeding legumes and permanent pasture mixtures, construction of drainage and diversion ditches, pasture improvement and renovation, control of poisonous and destructive plants and harvesting seed of forage crops.

The committee requested continuation of a second group of practices that would assist in maintaining production at present high levels.

BRIEF NEWS OVER STATE

(International News Service)

LEWISBURG—Ten Bucknell university faculty members have entered the armed forces. Nine are in the navy.

MIDDLETOWN—More than 9,000 civilians are fed daily in the engineering cafeteria at the Middletown air depot. A distinguished chef, Swiss born Peter Tamagne, supervises the cuisine which is said to compare with the nation's best.

YORK—Home from Alaska, Sgt. Lewis Woodward, 46, veteran of six months service on Amchitka island, says he will gladly trade his citations for bravery for a job. The former soldier was honorably discharged because of age and disabilities incurred on duty. Woodward said he applied at several places for employment but was turned down.

HERSHEY—Canadians train early for ice hockey. Peggy O'Neill, right wing for the Hershey Bears, started playing the ice game when he was eight in his home town of Saskatoon, Sask.

STATE COLLEGE—Some 3,000 army and navy trainees are stationed at Pennsylvania State college. To cater to their spiritual and social needs an inter-religious council has been organized. Thirteen clergymen are represented on the group.

MOUNT CARMEL—One of Mount Carmel's most famous citizens is James M. Gavin, a brigadier general at the age of 36. General Gavin won renown for his leadership of the paratroop operations in Sicily, the Pennsylvania Historical Commission points out.

PRICEDALE—Victim of an unusual accident, 13-months-old Mercedes Carothers of Pricedale, died within a week after she swallowed a flashlight bulb. The child crushed the bulg in her mouth and swallowed the glass and metal tip.

ERIE—Bert Colver of Springfield township was elected constable with one vote, that of a serviceman. There were no regular candidates.

JOHNSTOWN—The thief who made off with a $500 haul from the residence of Mrs. Margaret Polca, Johnstown, found most of it too tricky to hold. His loot consisted of 35 highly-prized pigeons. Most of them flew back home.

SCRANTON—Pfc. Henry Levy of Scranton is backing the home front while soldiering in England. In a letter to his parents he urged "whenever a war drive comes along, I want you to draw money from my bank because every drive is helpful."

CLEVELAND—(INS)—According to an unidentified complainant, dog days are over for fleas as they now ride on trolleys.

The young woman said that while riding to work on Cleveland's street cars she and some of her friends had been bitten on the backs of their legs by fleas.

She said she had decided the fleas hide in the straw seats in street cars and then come out and bite when the ladies sit down.

Ickes Forecasts Oil Reserves Will Run Only 13 Years

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes prophesied today that America's oil reserves will be exhausted in 12 to 13 years, based on pre-war consumption, and urged the production of petroleum from coal and oil shale.

In an article in Collier's the solid fuels administrator said:

"At the risk of being called a scarcity-monger, or something even worse, I insist that we must proceed without further delay to produce gasoline from coal, of which we have a tremendous supply, and from oil shale. I predict that we may live to see the end of the gasoline age unless we tackle the job objectively."

Ickes said that U. S. oil reserves are equivalent to 12 to 13 years consumption at the pre-war rate of one and one-half billion barrels yearly.

"But these reserves can't continue to produce oil at that rate," he declared and added that "this means not that we will be facing an oil shortage in 12 or 13 years, but that we are facing one now. We must find new oil now—and continuingly—in order even to maintain production at present levels."

Ickes said the synthetically produced oil would not be cheap but said it would become "a question of snythetic liquid fuel or the end of the gasoline age."

"BUSY CLUB"

CORAOPOLIS, Pa., Nov. 26.—(INS)—The Italian Beneficial Association's club in Coraopolis was described by Allegheny County detectives today as 'one of the busiest clubs in the county," as they told of raiding the place.

The detectives interrupted about 30 persons, most of them war workers, who were drinking at the bar, and seized six slot machines.

ROOKIES GET A BREAK

PHILADELPHIA— (INS) —The army doesn't seem the same for hard-boiled top kicks these days especially with the latest innovation—curing homesickness in rookie soldiers. Colonel D. N. Hauseman commandant of the Philadelphia ordnance district, announced recently that the new plan is in effect at several ordnance replacement training centers. The idea is to explain the psychology of homesickness, army regimentation and why soldiers resent discipline.

TRY NEW METHOD OF OIL DRILLING

Report Petroleum Flowing From "Oil Mine" Near Franklin After Blast

FRANKLIN, Pa., Nov. 26—(INS)—Petroleum was flowing today from an "oil mine" near Franklin, after a blast of 1,200 pounds of nitroglycerine opened rich sands in a revolutionary experiment of "horizontal well drilling."

The drilling was done at the base of a 420-foot mine shaft. Two lateral borings each extend 2,350 feet through rich oil-bearing sands, which were shattered by the nitroglycerine.

Resulting debris which littered the shaft made it difficult to determine the quantity of oil flowing from the sands immediately.

Leo T. Ranney, originator of the scheme, had kept the "shooting" time secret. His project is being watched closely by oil producers throughout the world.

Ranney hopes to multiply production with his novel horizontal boring by tapping much greater areas of sand than was possible in vertical drilling.

League Of Women Voters' Meeting

Young Citizens Year's Concern; School-Poll Tax Favored; J. M. Dunlap Speaker

New Castle League of Women Voters will have as its theme for the year "Our Government As It Affects the Citizen Under 21" and program topics and discussions will be centered around the problems of the young citizens, it was announced at the second meeting of the organization in the lounge of the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday afternoon.

Members were addressed by Jack M. Dunlap, county probation officer, who spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency". Mr. Dunlap's interesting talk was illustrated with accounts of actual delinquent cases and emphasized the need of the county for a detention home. Mrs. Bernard Hook, program chairman for the day, introduced the speaker.

The league went on record as favoring a school tax in the form of a poll tax for non-property owners with a resolution to that effect. Mrs. Kenneth Beck presided.

A summarized report of the bills pending in congress was given by Miss Marguerite Uhl, program chairman.

On December 29 the league will have its first evening meeting with Dr. Bernard Clausen of Pittsburgh as the speaker. The meeting will be at 8:15 at the Y. W. C. A.

Committee chairmen appointments were announced: Mrs. J. Olson, membership; Miss Marguerite Uhl, legislative; Mrs. J. T. Casey, parliamentarian; Mrs. H. W. Lightner, telephone; M. G. Brown, publicity.

Miss America Of 1935 Seeks To Secure Divorce

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's Miss America 1935, the former Henrietta Leaver, tried to write "finish" today to another unhappy chapter in her life by suing her husband, John E. Mustacchio, for a divorce in Pittsburgh.

The McKeesport "five-and-ten" store cinderella charged indignities.

With fame for beauty won, and fortune in sight, Henrietta at 19 abandoned a promising career in May, 1936, to elope to West Virginia with Mustacchio, an unemployed bartender. Immediately she canceled stage and night club appearances, announcing that she intended to be a wife in fact as well as in name, and would keep house for her husband, her childhood sweetheart.

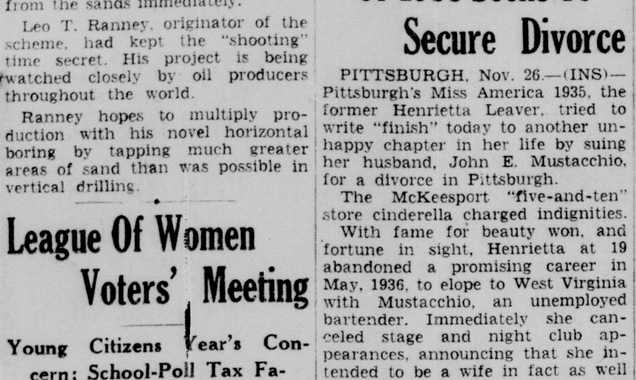

She spent Christmas Day, 1941, in a hospital after being injured in an automobile accident.

Shortly after becoming Miss America she posed for Sculptor Frank Vittor for a bathing beauty statue. Then she demanded that the statue be draped, as it did not indicate she had posed in a bathing suit. But she lost that battle when a jury of artists said drapes would be out of place.

The Mustacchios have a daughter, Patricia Anne, aged seven.

MORE HOME FRONT AID IS FORECAST

Government Releases More Food And Eases Some Other Regulations

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—The government announced today a series of moves providing good news for the home front in the way of more food, additional typewriters and continuation of low priced services such as laundering, dry cleaning and shoe repairing.

The war food administration disclosed that two million, 600 thousand cases of canned string beans and tomatoes set aside from the recent pack will be released for civilian use.

To safeguard the supplying of low priced public services that are important to the cost of living, the OPA set up specific conditions under which persons who supplied such services on March, 1942, or since, may drop them and offer higher priced services.

Effective Dec. 2, the ruling affects all services covered by the OPA services regulation which also includes servicing of automobiles, auto parking and hundreds of others.

Meanwhile rationing regulations affecting rentals and sales of used typewriters were eased by OPA as a result of decreased government requirements for the machines and the resumption of limited production of new typewriters.

All models of used typewriters, including the most recent, may be rented beginning Dec. 1. Released for unrestricted sale were office-size typewriters built before 1924 and portable machines produced before 1941.

Senator Assails U. S. Handouts To Rest Of Americas

Trip Through Central And South America Brings Attack On Policy

By ELLIOTT HAYES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Sen. Hugh Butler (R) Neb., charged today that an American "dance of the billions" in Central and South America is arming dictators for war, creating a hemispheric WPA and spreading fear of a post-war depression when hand-outs cease.

Butler reported to the Senate and to the Truman and Byrd committees on a tour of 20 Central and South American countries which he made last summer and fall.

The Truman committee is investigating all phases of the war effort and the Byrd committee is fighting for economies in government.

The United States, he said, is spending $6,000,000,000 in these countries in three years, while the annual budget of all the countries is slightly over one billion dollars. The United States is committed to expenditures of two billions more.

COLOMBIAN PRESIDENT PLANNING TO RESIGN

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Nov. 26.—(INS)—President Alfonso Lopez, of Colombia, resting in Miami Beach today enroute to Rochester, Minn., denied reports he will resign during a 60-day leave of absence granted him by the Colombian legislature.

After President Lopez left his country a bill was introduced in the legislature providing for the vice president to succeed him if he fails to return to Colombia at the end of his leave.

President Lopez said he may seek an extension of his leave while his wife undergoes medical treatment of Mayo Clinic.

SATTELBERG FALL IN NEW GUINEA IS BELIEVED NEAR

escorted medium bombers blasted Jap Bovouac areas and installations at Chabi. Fighters made a coastal sweep against Kieta, started fires in the township and wrecked three barges at Fauro Island. Mediums blasted and strafed the Kieta airfield and Jap-occupied villages from Tonolei to Mabiri.

The sole Jap retaliation from the air came in the Sattelberg sector when nine Nip bombers, with fighter escort, hurled bombs harmlessly into the sea and scrub near Heldsbach plantation.

B-24 Liberators smashed again at bomb-shattered Gasmata on the south shore of New Britain Island. Sweeping in over the target with fighter escort, the four-motored heavies hurled 53 tons of bombs on Jap supply dumps near the mouth of the Baroke river. Heavy explosions and large fires resulted.

Another Liberator force swept into the Netherlands East Indies in a smash at Jap shipping off Weda Bay on Halmahera Island in the Moluccas. A direct hit and two damaging near misses were scored on an 8,500-ton freighter-transport. The ship was listing and stationary in the water when the planes left. One of six Jap Zeros which attempted to intercept was shot down and a second was damaged.

The wharf area at Ambon on the netherlands East Indies Island of Amboina also was hit by mediums. Fires were started near the main pier.

TWO LOCAL MEN HURT IN WRECK

zlecroft avenue, engineer of the Deisel locomotive of The Ambassador, escaped with but slight bruises and a shaking up, in spite of the fact that his engine was derailed and overturned.

Other local men, all members of the freight crew, included: John N. Leprich, of 703 Harbor street, engineer; Guy Withrow and E. W Gailey, firemen; R. E. Freeman, conductor, and W. K. Riley, head brakeman.

According to information received here regarding the wreck, the B. & O. freight, a local operating between Warwick and New Castle Junction, had received orders to pull onto the siding to allow The Ambassador and a fast freight to go through. The Pennsylvania train, loaded with ore, had also received similar orders, and came into the switch a little too fast, crashing into the rear end of the freight, causing its engine to leave the tracks and topple over onto the main line track. It left several of the rear cars too close to the main track, and when The Ambassador came along, a few minutes afterwards, it sideswiped the freight cars and left the rails the locomotive and several cars overturning.

Eighteen persons were hospitalized and around 40 others were treated at the Warren hospital following the wreck, all of them passengers on the wrecked passenger train, it was stated.

Lawrence Flaesgarten, aged 61 years, engineer, and Guy McGowan, aged 53, fireman, of the Pennsylvania freight train, both of Cleveland, were the two killed in the crash.

REPORT 46 JAP PLANES ARE LOST

where American forces went ashore on Makin, Tarawa and Abemama atolls was "virtually complete."

"Few live Japanese remain in the Gilberts," he said.

Admiral Nimitz emphasized, however that the conquest of the Gilberts by the Americans in 76 hours did not mean the job had been completed. He pointed out that it will take weeks to clean up and develop the bases as a new position from which to strike the Japs.

The Japanese, Nimitz said, show reluctance to engage America in the area in the continuing aerial blasting of the Marshalls northwest of the Gilberts. The Japs are relying mainly on anti-aircraft fire.

B-24 Liberator bombers of the Seventh Air Force which loosed tons of bombs of Imieji, in the Jaluit atoll, on November 23 observed three float plane fighters in the air but these did not attempt to intercept the Liberators. Only a single Liberator was damaged by anti-aircraft fire.

Admiral Nimitz said the superiority of our carrier fighters was displayed in two engagements. Out of one flight of 20 Jap Zeros the Americans shot down 16 without a loss to themselves. In the second encounter with 15 Jap bombers and fighters 10 of the enemy craft were destroyed while one American plane was lost.

PROBE LIQUOR SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—A Senate judiciary subcommittee planned today to begin public hearings the first week in December to investigate the liquor shortage.

Sen. Van Nuys (D) Ind., chairman of the committee, laid much of the blame for the whiskey shortage on the fact there has been a 35 per cent reduction in bottle manufacturing since last year.

"Manufacturers," he said, "are allowed to buy only 65 per cent of the preceding year's quota. So, it's the bottle shortage that is largely to blame."

Best Medical Facilities Serve Soldiers In War

ALLIED FORCE HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Embattled troops of the Allied Fifth and Eighth Armies in Italy have access to the finest medical facilities in the military medical history, and far better than those available to soldiers of the last war, the director general of the British Medical Services declared today.

Lt. Gen. Sir Alexander Hood, speaking to the British and American correspondents following an inspection of the facilities of both armies at the Italian front, asserted:

"No armies in history have ever had better medical facilities than these."

General Hood listed five major factors in the improvement of military medicine since the first World War. They were:

1. The factors of getting surgeons farther forward in front line areas so that wounded men can be operated on without delay.

2. The development of front line blood transfusion technique, including the extensive use of blood plasma.

3. Development of the sulfa drugs.

4. Development of air evacuation of casualties to base hospitals (more than 50,000 wounded men have been evacuated by plane in this theater of the war during the last year, he said.)

JUNIOR C. E. SOCIETY THANKSGIVING PARTY

Members of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Madison Avenue Christian church, had a Thanksgiving party, on Wednesday evening, in the basement of the church.

Plans were discussed for the support of a leprous child. A report was given on the "pinwheels" being made for comfort bags for the soldiers. A Christmas party was arranged for December 16, in the church basement.

Games were the diversion of the evening, in charge of Irene Liversage, leader of the group.

A splendid lunch was served by Irene and Mrs. Fannie Hutnick.

REV. SCHNEBLY FUNERAL SERVICES HELD TODAY

Word has been received by Mrs. Wendell McClurg, of Fourth street, that the funeral services for the late Rev. D. C. Schnebly, of Colver, were being held today at 1:30 at the church in Colver. The funeral day was changed from Saturday, as the time was short for one of the sons, Lieut. Daniel Schnebly, of Fort Sill, Okla. Miss Ruth Glenn, of Edison avenue, left Thursday to attend the services. Rev. Schnebly was formerly pastor of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church.

WELL ATTENDED

At the Madison Avenue Christian church, the union Thanksgiving service of the churches of the ward, was well attended on Wednesday evening.

Rev. Warren A. Bugbee, of the Mahoning Methodist church led the devotional period, and Dr. John Orr, of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, preached the sermon. Rev. Clyde Roland of the host church, was in charge of the services.

LOYAL WORKERS TONIGHT

This evening members of the Loyal Workers Bible class of the Madison Avenue Christian church will gather at the home of Mrs. C. H. Clark, 703 North Cedar street, at 8 o'clock.

SOLDIER PROMOTED

Word has been received that Guy P. Mazzocca, of 212 East Clayton street, has been promoted to sergeant. He is stationed at Camp Swift, Texas.

Report 40 German Casualties Result Of Barracks Mutiny

LONDON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—A Reuter dispatch from Stockholm reported today that 40 German soldiers had been killed and wounded in a barracks mutiny in Copenhagen.

The mutiny was said to have followed the shooting of five officers who attempted to desert rather than carry out orders to proceed to the eastern front.

O'Neill Ahead In Youngstown Vote

YOUNGSTOWN, Nov. 26.—Ralph W. O'Neill, Democrat, emerged the victor by 13 votes in a spectacular recount of ballots cast in the Nov. 2 Youngstown mayoral election. The recount terminated at 5 p. m. Wednesday.

O'Neill's total was 21,733 against 21,720 for Arthur Williams, Republican. The recount gave O'Neill 27 additional votes while Williams gained 20 votes.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

NEW ACES

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA—(INS)—Into the ranks of Southwest Pacific aces this week stepped two veterans of the battle for New Guinea.

By bagging one Japanese fighter and one medium bomber over Morobe, on the north coast of Papua Capt. Gerald Johnson, of Eugene Ore., won the coveted ranking of ace.

Lieut. Grover Fanning of Kansas City, Mo., similarly loped into ace classification with a two-in-one victory.

SEARCH FOR FLIER

SUMTER, S. C., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Search was extended today for Aviation Cadet Gerald T. Held, 22, of Cappaqua, N. Y., whose plane crashed Wednesday morning in Wateree swamp.

Planes have joined the hunt, and Fort Jackson soldiers are expected to be added to the searching party.

The young flier is believed to have parachuted to safety only to become lost in the swamp.

Governor Edison Names Democrat To Senate Place

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Gov. Charles Edison of New Jersey today appointed Arthur Walsh, husky, grey-haired vice-president of the vast Thomas A. Edison industries, U. S. senator to succeed the late W. Warren Barbour, Republican, who died early this week.

Walsh, 47, has been associated with the governors for the past 30 years, and like his friend is a Democrat. He managed the campaign that culminated in Edison's election for a three-year term in 1939.

A marine in World War I, Walsh will serve in the senate until 1944 when a senator will be elected to fill the unexpired term until Jan. 3, 1947.

BOMBARDIER BLUFFS NAZIS, SAVES 'FORT'

By JOSEPH WILLICOMBS, JR.
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

A FLYING FORTRESS STATION, Somewhere in England, Nov. 26.—"The Jerries may not be yellow, but at times they get so cagey it's hard to draw the line."

That's the way Lt. Joe Glaser, of Williamston, Mich., feels about the Germans. He's one of the lead bombardiers at this station, and he should know whereof he speaks. Recently he figured in a grim bluff against the Luftwaffe high over Hamburg. Death was the stake. Joe won and has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his efforts.

Sole Fort Survivor

He happens to be the sole survivor of the ill-fated Flying Fortress "Judy B," lost in a subsequent encounter with the enemy. He wasn't along on the last trip because her crew talked him out of it. They felt that he needed a rest due to his harrowing experiences on the previous bombing mission.

The bluff developed on the last Hamburg raid. The Judy B had just begun her bomb run when a 20mm shell burst through the windshield and killed the pilot. Everyone aboard knew of the tragedy. But the swarm of attacking German fighter pilots didn't. Joe took it upon himself to see that they didn't.

Ship Lost Altitude

The pilot, hit a few minutes before reaching the target, fell forward. His right foot became caught in the rudder controls. The ship, flying at 26,500 feet, began to lose altitude. The shell had knocked out the co-pilot's oxygen system and a crash seemed inevitable.

As the plane staggered under the impact of a flak burst, the lifeless pilot fell over against the co-pilot. The latter, already weak for lack of oxygen, manipulated the controls with one hand and held the pilot up with the other.

Lt. Glaser unfastened his own oxygen hookup, snatched up a "walk-around" bottle and crawled to the rescue. One glance told him that the pilot was dead. If the attacking pilots knew it they would come in for the kill. Joe was determined that they wouldn't.

For long minutes he held the dead pilot in an upright position. In the meantime he unfastened the pilot's oxygen mask and passed it over to the co-pilot. The line was short, however, and the co-pilot was forced to operate the plane while leaning over at an angle of more than thirty degrees.

In one instance the Germans sensed trouble and streaked in for the kill. Joe moved to the right nose gun and helped drive them off. The ball turret, right waist and left waist gunners got one ME-109 each. The attack was thwarted. The heroic bombardier moved back to the cockpit and handed his "walk around" to the co-pilot.

A quick survey of the situation convinced Joe that the pilot's body would have to be removed from the cockpit as it continually lurched into the controls. Despite the fact that Joe weighed 150 as against the dead pilot's 190 pounds, he managed to get the body out of the pilot's seat and place it in the narrow space on the floor.

At one time while doing this Joe's head became wedged between the heavy control stick and the pilot's seat. It was miraculous, the co-pilot said later, that he wasn't crushed.

Glaser admitted afterwards that he didn't know just how he got his head out of the vice-like grip. He did recall that he passed out immediately after the incident and woke up in the bomb bay.

CITY OBSERVES THANKSGIVING

Union Services Conducted In All Parts Of City Thursday Morning

Thanksgiving services were held at a number of churches of the city on Thursday morning and Wednesday evening. Congregations of central city, East Side, North Hill and South Side joined in worship in the First Methodist church, Third U. P. church, Highland U. P. church and First Congregational church respectively, with union Lutheran services at St. John's church.

Special music had been arranged for the services. Dr. G. S Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church, delivered the Thanksgiving message to the congregations of the First Methodist, First Presbyterian, First Baptist, First Christian and Central Presbyterian churches.

At the Third U. P. church the congregation of that church together with those of Second U. P. Epworth and Croton Methodist churches heard a sermon delivered by Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of Second U. P. church.

Dr. S. E. Irvine of First U. P church preached at the 9 a. m. service at Highland U. P. church for a joint service.

On the South Side, participating churches were the First Congregational, Central Christian, St. Andrew's Episcopal, Italian Methodist and Maitland Memorial P. M church, with the pastor of the latter church, Rev. Dr. James Iley, delivering the sermon.

Union Lutheran service at St John's church, in which St. Paul's Bethany and Finnish Lutheran churches joined, was addressed by Rev. Louis G. Golder, pastor of Bethany church.

BRITAIN FACING HARD HOLIDAYS

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 26.—All the signs indicate this is going to be hard Christmas.

Probability is that it will be much like any other week-end in wartime London.

A survey today showed that not one family in fifty will get a turkey. Offers of forty dollars for a Christmas turkey are being refused by dealers. They just don't have any turkeys and expect Christmas quota will be nominal. There weren't many last year and there will be at least a further 40 per cent cut in available birds this Christmas.

Other Fowl Scarce

Chickens, geese and ducks are scarcer and more expensive per pound per bird than turkeys. The numble rabbit seems to have gone to permanent burrow. Fish is very scarce. Red meat is restricted by ration to twenty-seven cents' worth a week per person. Shell eggs are rationed, as are currants, sultanas and other fruit used in Christmas cake-making.

Fruit is very scarce, and expensive. There will be a Christmas distribution of oranges, for children and invalids only. There are no lemons or bananas, and very few imported nuts.

It's the same story as far as liquor is concerned. A merchant has just estimated that if they put all the sherry in the country into one huge barrel there might be enough for a sixtieth of a pint per estimated sherry drinker in the land. He also has it figured out that the remaining bottles of rare brandy in the country might provide a sip apiece for the brandy drinkers.

Scotch whiskey is terribly hard to get by the bottle right now and it's going to be a lot worse by Christmas. There's some bootleg whiskey about but it is uniformly bad—and dangerous to drink. Gin is in short supply and the bootleg variety is as bad as the bootleg whiskey.

Beer Being Rationed

Even the humble beer drinker isn't going to have too much fun. Most local saloons are rationing beer because of short supplies. The ration will be in full force during Christmas—traditional heavy drinking period among the poor, who in peace time always got in a barrel or more.

Present indications are that those who can afford it will try to get a table in a hotel or restaurant and let the other guy worry about the food and liquor problem. But the hotels and restaurants cannot offer much more than the normal war-time hospitality in view of stringent rationing.

President-giving will be severely curtailed—far more than in any year of the war. Virtually everything is "couponed" and the coupon ration scarcely is sufficient to meet everyday needs, let alone the purchase of gifts.

EDENBURG

TO PACK CHRISTMAS BOXES

The Womans Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church appointed a committee for the packing of Christmas boxes for the boys of the church that are in the states at the home of Mrs. Roy Raub, Monday evening. Cookies may be brought to the home of Mrs. Ray Biddle or Mrs. Roy Raub and those who volunteered to bring boxes may do the same.

EDENBURG NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Book and daughter, Florence, were Thursday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Book and family, of New Castle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKay and children spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stull, of New Castle.

Reverend Everett Spring is spending a few days at Erie, Pa., with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wigton and son, Kenneth, of New Castle, were Thanksgiving dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wigton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKay entertained at dinner in their home Monday evening Seaman 1-c Charles Francis and Miss Molly Colliford, of New Castle.

Mrs. Harry Smith, of New Castle, spent Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Unangst and Miss Geraldine List are spending the week with Pvt. Robert Unangst and relatives near Washington, D. C.

UNUSUAL HITCH-HIKER

NEHALEM, Ore.— (INS) —Louis Ludtke, a Nehalem farmer, met an unusual hitch-hiker during a recent trip.

Ludtke, seeing a bear at the side of the road, stopped and opened the car door for a closer look. The bear ambled over, climbed into the car and tried out the horn.

The amazed driver lost no time in argument, but drove to the nearest town. Two soldiers from a nearby camp recognized brother bruin as their lost camp mascot.

GARDNER

Mrs. G. P. Moore is recovering from the quinsy.

William Sherger, of East Liverpool, Ohio, visited relatives in Gardner, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mayrs, of Glassport, spent the week-end with the former's sister, Mrs. Harry Gibson.

Mrs. William Allsopp and daughters, Frances and Cynthia, and Miss Huanna Reamer spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Allsopp of Dravosburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zeigler, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Glass and children, Bobby and Marlene, of New Castle, were Sunday evening visitors at the Philip Moore home. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Gibson, of New Castle, were Sunday guests.

Mrs. Owen Crump, of Washington, D. C., spent a few days with Mr and Mrs. William Allsopp. Mrs. Crump was on her way to Pocatello, Idaho, to join her husband, who has accepted a position as master mechanic in the navy ordnance plant there.

A lot of perfectly reasonable arguments about the rights of the employers and labor would be more convincing if we could forget the boys who are dying.

Service Clubs Hear Hamilton

Vivid Portrayal Of Conditions Abroad Is Given By Returned French Officer

MANY QUESTIONS ARE CLEARED UP

Local service club members were thrilled by the vivid word picture given by Major Edgar G. Hamilton, retired officer of the French Foreign Legion, of the invasion of North Africa and conditions abroad, when he addressed them at a joint meeting, sponsored by the New Castle Kiwanis Club. Guests were from the Rotary, Lions, and Wolves clubs.

Major Hamilton gave a moving word picture of the North Africa invasion and of how successfully it was carried out. In spite of the fact that French observers had watched the American and British invasion forces from the air, they thought the convoy steaming through the Mediterranean was bound for Malta and the military was taken completely by surprise.

Much more resistance would have been encountered had not Admiral Darlan, second in command of the French Vichy government, appealed to the French to lay down their arms and collaborate with the invading forces, Major Hamilton stated. Darlan's assassination, cleared up an awkward situation, he said, but from the best information he could secure, it was not a planned affair, and was carried out by a young student representing a minor faction and was an act of vengeance for injustices, fancied or otherwise committed in the past. Darlan was never Pro-Nazi, Major Hamilton stated, in spite of his high position in the Vichy government.

He expressed the opinion that DeGaulle would have cleared up political conditions in North Africa much sooner, had he been permitted to have his way, and clear out the Vichy adherents who still retained their positions. Giraud, a retired general, had not the influence or desire to do this, being strictly a military man. DeGaulle, however, a man of tremendous obstinacy finally got his way and cleared them out.

Although he stated that in his opinion France would not turn Communistic after the war, he said the French underground movement is so well organized because of the efforts of the Communists in France, who hate both Germany and Fascism.

The underground movement has to keep itself very much undercover, due to the great peril hanging over the heads of any who are found out, and due also to the great number of people being held as hostages, whose lives are sacrificed whenever acts of sabotage and violence are committed by the underground. Many innocent persons are thus executed, only because they have committed minor infractions of German regulations and have had the misfortune to be in custody when reprisals are deemed necessary.

The Germans are entirely unsentimental about war and have no sense of decency or justice he said. They believe that any end justifies the means employed, whether it is the execution of women and children, or those actually guilty of the violation of the rules of warfare.

He stated that it takes great mental and physical courage to be a part of this movemnt, and believed that a strong government would evolve from those in the underground after the war, because of this fact.

As in his address to the American Legion the night previous, he emphasized the danger of Fascism in this country, and urged his hearers to guard against it, by recognizing the rights of others of opposing religious beliefs or racial stock. After Fascism gets a foothold, it is difficult to destroy, he stated, citing the example of France.

Major Hamilton's mother, Mrs Harriett Goodman was also a guest of the Kiwanians, and was given a great ovation when introduced.

He cleared up many questions in the minds of his hearers at a question period after his talk relative to conditions in North Africa, Lebanon, and Europe, both political economic, and military. Many of his listeners remained until long after the accustomed hour for closing to hear this discussion.

DOCTORS WARN CONSTIPATED FOLKS ABOUT LAZY LIVER

Constipation is often accompanied by many discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few. And here's good advice!

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. F. M. Edwards, successfully relieved scores of patients from constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists from coast to coast.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful! They not only gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but ALSO stir up liver bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT to feel "tip-top" in the morning. 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. Follow label directions.

Peak Is Passed In War Production Says H. J. Kaiser

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The peak has been passed in production of ships, and some other war goods, Henry J. Kaiser, miracle man of the shipbuilding industry said today. And he proposed that we begin planning right now for the post-war world, in which our industry will come to full flower.

"We have already demonstrated in the war effort that we can produce almost anything in any quantity," said Kaiser in his Rockefeller Center office. "The war has taught us how to train men and women quickly for new trades so that the labor which is displaced by the machine can be quickly adapted to new techniques."

Kaiser added that he doesn't believe in an economics of scarcity, but rather in full production, full productive employment, and that the more we produce the more we will have to divide.

Kinzua Bridge, near Bradford, is considered one of the finest of engineerisg works in the east. The bridge is 300 feet high and 2,100 feet long.

SUGGESTS HYBRID SEED CORN BE ORDERED EARLY

The wise farmer will order his supply of hybrid seed corn without delay, since the supply of many kinds is short and there will not be enough to meet all demands.

R. R. Cooper, extension agronomist of the Pennsylvania State College, considers maturity the most important factor in choosing the right kind of hybrid corn. This may mean the difference between a good crop and no crop at all.

Copper also thinks it is a good plan to have two or three varieties of corn with different lengths of season to maturity. Then the late one can be planted first and the early hybrid last. This will give a chance to compare a number of hybrids on the farm.

Farmers should be sure that the grade of corn corresponds to the plates in the corn planter. For instance, if the plate calls for long, flat grains, that is the kind to buy. Most seed corn dealers can supply the right grade of corn if the serial number of the planter plate is included with the order. Information on the maturity of hybrids may be obtained from the Agricultural Extension Office, No. 206 Post Office Building, New Castle.

BUY FERTILIZER NOW AND HELP TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

Growers who have storage facilities for fertilizer can help greatly by ordering the supplies they need now.

Early ordering will help the fertilizer manufacturers to use their limited manpower steadily, avoid congestion of transportation facilities in the spring, and move freshly mixed goods to the consumer, thus releasing limited storage space in the plants for use of ingredients for more mixing.

The fertilizer supply for 1944 is considered adequate for most needs. Nitrogen supplies have improved since last year and many analyses will contain more nitrogen than was available this year. However, the supply of potash is about 20 per cent less and the amount has been reduced in some analysis. For vegetable crops, the slightly reduced amount of potash should not be serious, especially where manure is available.

If fertilizer is delivered now, it should be stored in a dry place, and should not be stacked more than 8 to 10 sacks high. Otherwise, the fertilizer may cake and it is not easy to break up the lumps when the fertilizer is used.

SILAGE AND HAY ARE BEEF CATTLE FEEDS

Good corn silage and good legume hay can be used as winter feeds for mature beef cows, which are being maintained for calf production, and for 2-year-old steers which are to be fattened on pasture next year. These feeds usually will maintain the animals in good, thrifty condition.

A rough guide is to feed three pounds of silage to one pound of hay. Silages made from oats, wheat, legumes and grasses also may be used. When non-legume roughages are fed, they should be supplemented with some high-protein concentrate, such as cottonseed meal, soybean meal, linseed meal, or any combination of these, at the rate of one pound a day per 1,000 pounds of live weight.

Beef calves and yearling heifers and steers should be fed a large part of the available concentrates which farmers have to feed their beef herds. Good roughages, plus a small amount of grains and high-protein concentrates, are necessary for growth and development of young cattle.

BUY PATTERN TO SUIT FABRIC, FIGURE, NEED

Salves of commercial dress patterns to women who are making their own clothes have increased as much as 50 per cent in the past two years, according to reports from retail stores.

Probably the first reason for this increase is that ready-made dresses are more expensive.

Each price range has been stepped up and the woman who bought inexpensive dresses now finds they are beyond her reach. Along with this higher price is a decrease in choice of dresses.

A second reason for more dresses being made at home is that some women find it difficult to buy a dress that fits perfectly. There is the taller-than-average woman who finds the ready-made dress too short and with too small a hem to let down, sleeves, are too short, and the waistline creeps up. Then there is the half-size figure for whom the average size dress is too long and too small.

For the woman who can sew or is interested in learning, here are a few suggestions:

Read all labels regarding fiber content and care of the material.

Select the patterns which is suitable for the fabric, the purpose for which the dress will be worn, and your figure.

Read carefully the guide sheet which comes with the pattern before doing any cutting.

Buy all finishings when you buy the material.

Some materials are now woven in 42-inch widths and pattern layouts are planned for this width.

Before cutting into the fabric, ask yourself these questions: Is the nap running in the same direction on all pieces? Are the plaids matched? Is the pattern straight on the grain of the material?

HEADS KIWANIS CLUB

GROVE CITY, Nov. 26.—Herman F. Smith, borough secretary, was elected president of the Kiwanis club for 1944, at the annual meeting. He has served the club as secretary and member of the board of directors this year.

The club elected J. C. Bakley, vice president; Don Abbey, treasurer, and the following directors: Dea Jones, Jack Hoffman, Loyal Walters, Paul Book, A. J. Schell, Frank Patterson, Ray Younkins and M. B. Klinesmith.

States Reduce Debts By Close To 62 Million

CHICAGO—(INS)—States have decreased their debts by almost 62 million dollars during the last three years, the Council of State Governments reported recently.

In addition they have piled up surpluses in excess of a billion dollars for postwar construction projects or rehabilitation work.

The decreases in individual state debts are due to greatly increased revenues and reduced expenditures, as well as to the lack of construction work resulting in a minimum issuance and a greater redemption of bonds, the council said.

Florida has no debt and Iowa, Nebraska, Nevada and Utah report only small gross-amounts. New Jersey, Missouri and Minnesota have cut their indebtedness to less than $100,000,000 and the debts of eight other states—Arkansas, California, Illinois, Louisiana, Massachusetts, New York, North Carolina and Pennsylvania—have been reduced materially.

Horse Breeding Still Neglected

ITHACA, N. Y.—(INS)—Although OPA restrictions on driving have caused the resurrection of the horse-drawn hack and delivery vehicle, prices for horses are not yet high enough to induct farmers to breed them, three faculty members of the State College of Agriculture said today. Dr. W. I. Myers, former governor of the Farm Credit Administration; and Profs. F. A. Pearson and W. M. Curtiss declared that "it is still more profitable to produce beef, pork, and milk cows than to raise colts."

"Following a five-year decline the purchasing power of horses is about the same as a year ago, and is approximately at the lowest level in a half century. On Jan. 1 1943, there were less than one-half as many horses as there were at the World War peak. Since the 20s, the number of mules has declined, and there are now about one-third fewer on farms than at that time.

"Continued depreciation, of machinery on farms and restrictions in the production of mechanical power may be sufficient to result in continued improvement in prices of horses, and some advances in their purchasing power," the farm experts continued. "These advances probably will not be sufficient to encourage a significant increase in the breeding of mares, and they may retard slightly the rate of liquidation.

Cattle Feed Cut Late In Day Best

ITHACA, N. Y.—(INS)—Livestock fed alfalfa and other hay and forage crops cut in the late afternoon, instead of in the morning, are gaining a sharp increase in nutritive values, according to preliminary studies supervised by Prof. O. F. Curtis of the New York State College of Agriculture. These surveys show that the carbohydrate content of the crops is the highest in the late afternoon, and lowest in the early morning.

Basis of the test, says the Cornell plant pathologist, is the fact that all carbodrydrates are manufactured by plants from carbon-dioxide and water only in the presence of light. Part of the food manufactured during the day is used up in night hours through respiration of the plant, and through growth. It stands to reason, as the tests have shown, that the plant tissues contain the most food after a full day of sunshine.

Tests with alfalfa cut and artificially dried in 1942 showed that the plots cut late in the afternoon produced 90 per cent more sugar and starch to the acre, and 25 per cent more total dry matter, than plots harvested early in the morning.

To make the tests more significant, more must be run wtih crops cut and dried naturally, to show what increase in food value is gained under farm field conditions. In one series of tests already made the forage from the plots was dried in the field under natural conditions. This proved an advantage of 50 per cent more sugar and starch to the ace, and about 20 per cent more total dry matter to the acre, from plots cut in the afternoon.

GUN-SPOTTER HOPS HEDGES IN CUB PLANE

WITH U. S. ARMORED FORCE UNITS, Somewhere in England—(INS)—With pilot's wings over his pockets and armored force insignia on his shoulder, the lieutenant looked slightly out of place among the tankers in the officers' mess.

But closer investigation showed that he was right in his element, that he belonged to this armored column just as much as the burliest tank driver.

For First Lieut. F. T. Farrell, 2207 Lincolnway West, South Bend, Ind., is a field artillery officer in the armored force, and although today he flies a plane he has no standing in the Army Air Force.

Flies A 'Grasshopper'

His plane is the hedgehopping Piper Cub, fondly known as a "Maytag Messerschmitt" or "Grasshopper." His pilot's wings carry the letter "L," which stands for liaison pilot, and Lieutenant Farrell explained that in action he flew his ship to observe artillery fire and spot targets for the outfit's big guns.

The little two-seater cub, he added, is also used as a quick means of transportation for vital officers between various command posts. It was such a plane that set Maj. Gen. Mark Clark down on the streets of Naples soon after the Allied capture of the Italian city.

Headquarters for this unit is on the country estate of a titled English lady and Farrell admitted that he frequently landed his ship on the estate's front lawn.

Good Chance To Escape

Asked if he had considered the fact that he might be duck soup for a German fighter when his unit got into frontline action, Farrell said:

"Strangely enough we have a good chance of escaping. We can get away from enemy fighters easily if we see them coming and then do a tight turn. It takes a high-speed pursuit ship a couple of miles to turn around and come back after us.

"We shouldn't be flying above 500 feet and by that time we can make a landing on a road or in a field.

Boy Is Wounded Playing Football

McKEESPORT Pa., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Police were questioning four boys today to determine who fired a rifle bullet that wounded an 11-year-old boy playing football in Myer Park, McKeesport.

Investigators said the shot was fired about a mile away, across a broad hollow within the city limits. It struck George Brown, Jr., in the thigh just as he was about to tackle a playmate. The boy was taken to McKeesport hospital. After treatment there he was taken home.

The four boys in police custody were accused of stealing a rifle from the home of Andy Kiucherah.

John Brown plotted his raid on Harper's Ferry while staying in Chambersburg, Pa.

Present 'Army' Ranks At Union

Special Program In Tin Cannoneers Activity At Union High Wednesday

Tin Cannoneers of the Union township school were presented with their "Army" ranks on Wednesday afternoon when a special assembly program was held in the auditorium. Seventy-two privates, 27 corporals, 16 sergeants, 9 second lieutenants, four first lieutenants, three captains, three majors, two lieutenant colonels and seven colonels received their insignias.

The program was opened with Supervising Principal Milton Pattison addressing the assembly and following that the National Anthem was sung with Richard Patterson directing. Grades 5 and 6 sang three songs, one their Tin Can Song. The awarding of insignia followed.

The balance of the program included a group of patriotic songs by Grade 3; two vocal solos by Miss Patricia Goske accompanied by Donna Parks, piano solos by Paul McConahy and Robert McConahy and a group of songs by the fourth grade. "God Bless America" concluded the program. Miss Angeline Venditto is the tin can chairman for the school.

One student of the school, Miss Jeanette Hardie stands out for the number of homes she has on her tin can list. Only 19 homes are required for a colonelcy which she was awarded but she has 28 homes from which she collects tin cans. This is thought to be the record for the county thus far.

Urges Preparations For Restoration Of Peacetime Industry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Charles E. Wilson, executive vice chairman of the War Production Board, predicted before a senate committee that the war may be over in 18 months, and urged that preparations be begun for a return to peacetime manufacturing.

"It is not unreasonable to think the war will be over in eighteen months," Wilson declared before the Senate Truman committee. "I don't think it will be over as soon as some think. The surest thing is that it won't wind up the way people think it will."

Wilson urged that corporations be allowed to place orders for machine tools for peacetime use to replace those given up for war work. He also urged that the government determine prices on machine tools it will sell, and prepare to move war tools out of plants.

FIVE GOVERNMENT EMPLOYES HELD IN RATIONING CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Five employes of the government printing office were arraigned before a United States commissioner in Washington Wednesday on charges of counterfeiting ration stamps. They pleaded guilty and are being held for grand jury action.

The quintet were arrested some time ago by the Secret Service but the case was not brought into the open until the arraignment.

The government employes are alleged to have stolen government dies and paper to print a small quantity of commodity and gas ration stamps for use by themselves and friends.

ARGUE OLD CASE

Argument was resumed Wednesday in court room number one on a case in equity that has been pending since March 1939. The case is that of the City of New Castle versus Lawrence County, Lawrence County Institution District, School district of Shenango township, Shenango township, Ellis F. Shaffer, tax collector for Shenango township, and V. I. Mandich, county treasurer.

The case is that in which the defendants named sought to levy taxes against Cascade Park and the Municipal Golf Course. In his opinion at the time the case was first heard, Judge Thomas W. Dickey, now deceased, ruled that taxes could be levied against the golf course because it was a commercial venture, but not against Cascade Park as it was a municipal park run for no profit.

The decree handed down was not a decree nisi, which permits exceptions to be heard before a final decree is made. On Wednesday, counsel for both sides agreed that the old decree should be made nisi, and that further argument would be heard upon it. Sitting on the case were Judge John G. Lamoree and Judge George H. Rowley of Mercer county.

CASE FINISHED

Testimony was completed Wednesday in the case of the National Labor Relations Board hearing in the complaint of the CIO against the United Engineering and Foundry Company. The case is one in which unfair labor relations are charged in the discharge of John Peter Lukas and Ralph Largo, former employes. It is claimed they were discharged for union activities.

For the company testimony presented to show that the two men were discharged for inefficiency and not for union activity. The case was heard by Trial Examiner Peter F. Ward. Mr. Ward will hand down an intermediary report in the case, stating his findings and making recommendations. The intermediary report is subject to exceptions by both sides after it is made. Final decision is the matter of the National Labor Relations Board.

New Castle Store Annual Dinner Held At Trinity Church

Annual Get-Together Attended By 130 Guests; Guests Of Theatre Afterwards

In keeping up a tradition launched several years ago, employes of the New Castle Store held their annual get-together Wednesday evening in the form of a "good fellowship" dinner party in the dining-room of Trinity Episcopal church.

At tables nicely appointed in tones suggestive the holiday season, places were set for 130 guests. Harry Culliford presided in the role of toastmaster, and kept the evening rolling along without a lull. He delighted with his own impersonations of personalities of a number of the group "as they are remembered while serving their customers." Impromptu remarks appropriate to the occasion, were also heard from several of the personnell.

Ladies' auxiliary of Trinity Episcopal church, can take a bow for having prepared and served one of the finest full course dinners the organization has partaken of, in some few years.

Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Margaret Heckert, Miss Hannah Rubinson, Mrs. Lillian Edmunds, Mrs. Ann Phillips and Miss Dorothy Pregenzer.

In rounding out the evening, the entire assemblage attended the Penn theatre, as guests of the management.

Character test: Do you feel disgust or pity when a smart Aleck gets on a quiz program and tries to show off?

Don't blame Morgenthau. His experts make the plans, and Congress ignores the ones that make sense.

Ordnance Experts Win New Battle

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Army ordnance experts have won another battle on the production front—this time against salt water and salt air.

Many weapons used in World War II are so delicately machines that salt air causes corrosion. And corroded weapons won't work. Nevertheless, practically every weapon must be transported overseas for use by American fighting men on the world's battlefronts.

To overcome the difficulties imposed by shortages of shipping space and storage facilities which make the danger of salt water even greater, ordnance engineers have developed a water-repellant grease-proof paper, known as "ordnance wrap".

The paper is now used in connection with a special ordnance innovation involving placement of a moisture-absorbing substance in a container with the instrument. Whatever moisture may be within the package is absorbed and the "ordnance wrap" on the outside prevents salt water vapor from getting inside the package.

As a result of the two new techniques engines, bearings, electrical motors, precision instruments and other delicate articles arrive at the front in perfect condition.

Jap Report Says Formosa Attacked

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The large fortified Japanese island of Taiwan (Formosa) was attacked by a score of Allied planes, the Jap Domei agency reported today.

The attack, according to the broadcast Domei Dispatch, was directed against Shinchiku, in the northwestern part of the island which lies just off the southeast coast of China.

The Domei transmission, recorded by the U. S. foreign broadcast intelligence service, claimed that three of the attacking craft were shot down by Jap naval interceptor planes.

Bryn Mawr, famous college for women in Montgomery county, was founded by Quakers.

Eleven Fliers Are Dead In Collision

LIBERAL, Kan., Nov. 26.—(INS)—The Liberal army air base disclosed today that 11 fliers were killed yesterday when two four-motored Liberator bombers collided in mid-air, crashed and burned five miles from the air base. The planes were on a routine training mission.

The victims included a captain, two sergeants, two privates, a corporal and five second lieutenants. One of the latter was Second Lieut. John B. McConnell, 21 (son of Mrs. Mabel T. McConnell, 354 Atwood street), Pittsburgh, Pa.

Railroad Strike Vote Is Completed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Leaders of the 15 non-operating railroad unions will meet in Washington Dec. 1 and 2 to consider the results of a nationwide strike ballot among their 1,100,000 members it was learned today.

The voting closed at midnight last night and the ballots now are being tabulated locally at the respective headquarters of the 15 unions. The strike poll was taken in support of the workers demands for an eight cent an hour pay increase.

Union spokesmen here said the results of the ballot will be studied at next week's meeting but that an announcement may be deferred pending the outcome of congressional action to endorse the union's wage demands, twice turned down by Economic Stabilization Director Fred Vinson.

Previously, union leaders indicated the rank and file was voting nearly 100 per cent to strike. However, George Harrison, president of the railroad clerks, has promised congress to withhold the fixing of a strike date until action is completed on a joint resolution supporting the eight cent increase.

FIVE ENROLL FOR SERVICE IN NAVY

Five more men have been enrolled for service in the U. S. Navy, H. L. Godfrey, petty officer first class, recruiter for the navy here reports. They were enrolled on November 24.

They are:

Arthur D. Weller, 329 Summit avenue, Ellwood City.

Wilfred D. Henry, Sharon.

Richard T. Uber, R. D. No. 7, Mercer.

Donald E. Hague, 238 West Moody avenue, New Castle.

Raymond G. Campbell, Greenville, Pa.

Believe Germans Bombed Vatican With Allied Planes

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(INS)—London aviation circles are of the opinion that the Vatican was bombed by specially trained English-speaking Nazi crews using captured Allied planes and munitions, John McVane, National Broadcasting Company's London reporter broadcast from the British capital today.

Quoting the authoritative English aircraft magazine, The Airplane, McVane said an article in this publication charges the Germans with bombing the holy city with Allied planes. It is known from articles in the Spanish newspaper Informaciones, the aircraft magazine said, that the Germans have formed squadrons and are flying captured repaired British and American planes.

AROUND CITY HALL

Council met Friday morning in city hall. A communication from County Elections Board Clerk W. A. Eakin was read. It showed the November vote for city office as follows: John F. Haven, R., 7,651; A. D. Anderson, D., 2,658, for mayor; Albert A. Hoyland, R., 8,013, and D. O. Davies, R., 7,925 and B. N. Harlon, R., 6,616 and with 2,902 votes on the Democratic ticket, a total of 9,518.

Council was notified Friday morning that S. S. Snyder of Slippery Rock has made application to the P.U.C. for permission to operate sight-seeing buses between Slippery Rock and this city. Council indicated it would voice no objection.

Mrs. Beck of 203 North Walnut street, today reported to police she had rented a room to a man whose name she gave to police in October and later she discovered her Elgin 17-jewel watch and Hoover Sweeper had been stolen.

EXECUTE MURDERER IN CHICAGO PRISON

CHICAGO, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Ernest Wishon, 35, was executed in the electric chair in the Cook County jail today for the murder of Joseph Schulte, a jeweler, in an attempted robbery of the latter's jewelry store June 28.

Wishon was pronounced dead at 1:10 a. m.

A final plea to the U. S. circuit court of appeals failed to save Wishon.

PLANE DEATH TOLL INCREASES TO SIX

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Ralph Zach Looney, 29, died in a Fort Worth hospital today to bring to six the death toll from a crash of a B-24 army bomber. Looney, crew chief of the ship, was thrown clear but succumbed to burns.

The ship, on its "shake-down flight" after assembly at the Fort Worth plane of Consolidated Vultee, crashed yesterday shortly after its pilot had radioed asking permission for an emergency landing because of engine trouble.

Four Fort Worth men and Charles Echols, of Minneapolis, representative of a sub-contracting firm, were instantly killed in the crash.

According to statistics less than 3 percent of all incarcerated criminals can play musical instruments.

Police Dance Last Night Is Success

Fraternal Order of Police dance Thanksgiving night in the Cathedral was a success, according to James P. Steiner, general chairman of the dance committee.

There was a nice crowd and the dancers enjoyed the music. Dancing was enjoyed from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. The affair is held annually and the net proceeds are devoted to the police pension fund of the city department.

BRING BACK BUCK, DON'T CALL ABOUT IT

The story of how you shot the big buck will sound much more impressive at home when you have the evidence there to support it, says the Bell Telephone company today in suggesting to hunters that they avoid long distance calls to folks back home during the deer hunting season.

Hunters, who get a kick out of calling home to tell of their prowess, should remember that long distance telephone lines are now crowded with war calls, the company said. This is particularly true in the evening hours, which is the period when most service men have the time to make their calls.

WAR HITS HUNTERS

ST. LOUIS— (INS) —Applications for fishing and hunting licenses have decreased 25 per cent in St Louis, according to recent estimates. Shortage of shotguns and shells, gas and tire rationing, longer work weeks for hunters and fishermen who used to have week-ends free and the increasing number of men going into the armed forces were given as reasons for the decline.

Farm Machinery To Be Increased

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The War Food Administration disclosed today that farm machinery manufacturers will meet their increased quotas for 1944 and assured farmers that equipment will be delivered in time for spring planting.

Basing its conclusions on current and anticipated production schedules of manufacturers, WFA predicted "an improved out look for new farm machinery in 1944."

"Overall raw materials authorized by the War Production Board for making general planting, tillage and harvesting equipment during the year provide for approximately double the quantity produced in 1943, or about 80 per cent of the 1940 production—a year in which manufacture was relatively large," WFA said.

Manufacture of repair parts for farm machinery will be unrestricted next year.

Parents And Wife Of Lt. Henderson Receive His Medals

Decorations Are Sent By Government To Survivors Of Air Hero

Mrs. Geraldine Lucille Hadsell Henderson, this city, widow of Lieut. Harold H. Henderson, aged 25 years, who was killed when his Flying Fortress was shot down in a raid over Germany, last March, has received the Purple Heart awarded her husband by the government.

His other medals, the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal were sent to the flyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Henderson of Sharpsville.

The Distinguished Flying Cross was awarded "for extraordinary achievement while serving as co-pilot on an airplane over enemy-occupied Europe on Jan. 23, 1942." The pilot was disabled, five crew members injured severely and the plane badly damaged. Lt. Henderson assumed control and landed it at a friendly base (presumably a U. S. base in England) "despite its almost unmanageable condition and the stress of the situation."

The Air Medal was for his first five bombing missions over enemy-occupied continental Europe. The Purple Heart is awarded to next of kin of soldiers killed by enemy action.

The war department reported his death Sept. 22 after receipt of word from the German government through the International Red Cross.

DUTCH JOKE BOOK

NEW YORK.—(INS)—A Hollander who recently escaped to England says that one of the favorite "gags" was to ask what Hitler and Mussolini discussed at their last meeting in Verona and then to "reavel" that they talked about who would "beat it" first. This takes on added interest because the joke was current before Mussolini resigned.

Another standing joke in Holland concerns the members of the Dutch Nazi party, who, as a "premium" for recruiting two new members, received the right to resign himself.

Frenchmen say France should have equal voice in Allied post-war planning. All right; but who or which is France?

LIBERTY SHIPS HARD TO SINK

WASHINGTON. — (INS) — Men who who "go down to the sea" in Liberty Ships meet plenty of adventure, the War Shipping Administration said today.

The stories of two American vessels doing convoy duty have just been revealed. One, the S. S. William Wirt, not only survived five air attacks in the eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean, but shot down several enemy planes.

Launched in Baltimore 15 months' ago, this Liberty Ship under the command of Capt. C. D. Simmons of Baltimore experienced a baptism of fire last January. Its navy gun crew, commanded by Lt. (j. g.) Robert H. McIlwaine, USNR, of New York, shot down four planes and is credited with two more "probables."

Held Position In Convoy

Although damaged by near misses and a bomb which penetrated to its high-inflammable cargo, the William Wirt held its position in the convoy discharging cargo on schedule. After temporary repair, the vessel continued on duty many weeks before returning to the United States. When last reported, the ship was still in action carrying materials of war to our fighting forces.

Another Liberty Ship, the S. S. Matt W. Ransom, was saved when the master and six vounteers reboarded her and brought her into port after she had been abandoned as doomed, following mine blasts off the African Coast.

This ship, built at Wilmington N. C., was approaching an African port with a large cargo of army supplies when a violent explosion opened her bow. After a second explosion the ship began to settle fire swept the decks threatening the fuel tanks and the order was given to abandon ship.

Brought Ship To Port

When all hands were safe in lifeboats, her skipper, Capt. John Metsall of New York, saw the vessel had ceased to settle. Accompanied by Ensign Earl J. Cohn of Buffalo, N. Y.; seaman first class J. C. Rehmert of Dayton, O.; seaman first class John J. Enright of Anaconda, Mont.; third assistant engineer K. V. Gately of Jacksonville, Fla.; Peter Drevas of Quincy Mass., and C. Clyde Boyer of New Orleans, La.; Capt. Metsall returned to the ship. With the six vounteers he climbed its slanting deck the bow being almost buried in the sea. Two men re-fired the boilers while the others fought the fire, and finally the vessel got under way.

Manned by this skeleton crew of four men above decks and two below, the Matt W. Ransom proceeded to port with the help of another vessel and discharged her cargo.

REPLACEMENT SCHEDULE

CLEVELAND— (INS) —Approximately 280 war production companies in Ohio Michigan and Kentucky now are operating under War Manpower Commission manning tables.

The manning tables show the number and types of workers, as well as the length of time necessary to train such workers. They are designed to assist employers in recruiting, upgrading and training workers, including replacements for men inducted into the armed forces

HOUSE WAR WORKERS

HATBORO, Pa.—(INS)—A 90-day housing wonder has sprung up near Hatboro to accommodate 1,200 war workers and their families. In addition to three-to-five room clapboard houses, the development will boast a $110,000 school with facilities for 600 pupils, a moving picture theater, recreation center, two day nurseries, paved streets, stores and probably a postoffice substation.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

HARRISBURG, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The State Bureau of Elections has compiled an unofficial list of the posts to be filled by the voters in the 1944 primary and general elections...At the primary election April 25, Pennsylvanians not only will nominate candidates but Republicans and Democrats will each elect 113 state committeemen...In addition, the Republicans will vote for eight delegates-at-large and a similar number of alternates to the presidential nominating convention while Democrats will choose four at-large delegates and four alternates...Both parties also will pick 70 delegates and 70 alternates.

In the general election November 7, Pennsylvanians will vote for a president and vice-president, one U. S. Senator, 33 Congressmen, one supreme court justice and one superior court judge, a state treasurer, an auditor general, 25 state senators and the 208 members of the state house of representatives...In addition there will be hundreds of local elections.

John L. Naylor, administrative assistant of the bureau of workmen's compensation, has said that absenteeism due to accidents is a costly and needless by-product of industry..."Industrial accidents can sabotage our work," he stated. "All accidents are of two types, inevitable and preventable. Inevitable accidents do not result from the fault of anyone and the loss of time occasioned is naturally a part of the cost of production. Preventable accidents are the result of someone's negligence or inexperience." He disclosed that during the first six months of 1943 the peak accident month was March when 13,627 accidents were reported.

The flags that fly over the State Capitol have a "life" of approximately 60 days but the time would be halved if they were not taken down at sunset and even less yet if storm flags were not substituted in "rough weather"...Three flags fly over the main Capitol building while two are located in the park, which is a part of the memorial to soldiers and sailors...The flags and positions are prescribed by regulations ...The department of property and supplies disclosed that the flags are 19 feet by 10 feet while the storm flags are nine by five and a half feet...The 60-day life of the flags would be cut to 60 minutes if the larger flags were permitted to fly during high winds, the department stated.

DOES HIS PART

CLEVELAND — (INS)—Conducting a one-man drive on the domestic front, towards the winning of the war, Sam A. Murrin runs a continuous service for home-front drives and defense.

Superintendent of a 49-suit apartment building, Murrin, 56, collects an average of 15 to 15 cartons of processed tin cans a month, three-fourths of a tons of newspapers clothing for Russian relief and discarded silk stockings for powder bags. He is an air raid warden and auxiliary fire chief.

LOWER AGE LIMIT

PITTSBURGH. — (INS) — Alma Perkoske, of Carrick, who had been flying for three years and had 180 air hours to her credit, didn't think it was quite fair that she couldn't join the WAFS last February because she was only 20 years old.

But officials lowered the age limit and Miss Perkoske, who has been Pennsylvania-Central airlines reservations agent in Pittsburgh, is now receiving training as a ferry pilot at Sweetwater, Texas.

UNWANTED JUROR

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(INS)—Fort Worth city councilman Orville Tunstill says he's beginning to feel like the girl who was "always a bridesmaid but never a bride."

Seven times in four days he was rejected as a juror.

There's added irony in the fact that Tunstill isn't the least bit reluctant about jury service, is glad to perform his duty as a citizen But one side or the other in every case found some reason for excusing him.

Britain Provides Clubs For U. S. Merchant Seamen

LONDON — (INS) — Four clubhouses in England, Scotland and Wales have been set aside by the British government, under reverse lend-lease procedure, for the use of American merchant seamen. A fifth will be opened soon.

The clubs, which have been turned over to the U. S. War Shipping Administration, are located in Glasgow, Cardiff, Gourock and Liverpool. The new one is to be in Bristol. They play host to men injured on the hazardous Russian run, or while sailing the Atlantic convoys; to survivors of bombing and torpedoings; to men on shore leave, and to those awaiting assignmen as crew replacements.

Not only the clubhouses, but all the furnishings—from beds to ping-pong balls—are provided by Britain. Light, heat and domestic service are also supplied under reverse lend-lease. Beer licenses, which would normally cost $400, are by special dispensation made available for $20

In Glasgow alone, where the Imperial hotel serves as club headquarters, more than 1,000 ship-wrecked seamen have been cared for in the past seven months. The clubhouse in Gourock, Scotland, is the beautiful Royal Yacht club overlooking the River Clyde.

There will be post-war jobs. Think how many millions of women are saving money for the day when they can buy good clothes.

TAGS LIVE DEER

MYRTLE POINT, Ore.—(INS)—And who paid for the extra shell? A Portland hunter downed a deer and immediately attached his tag to it. He was preparing to bleed the animal when the buck arose, threw off the hunter and disappeared down a gully.

Soon a second shot rang out and the Portland nimrod came upon another hunter who brought down the same buck—this time for good. A slight argument ensued with the second marksman ending the dispute by commenting.

"You win if you are hunter enough to a tag a live deer, even though I did kill it."

See the man who stayed in the shade all summer? Soon he will be growling because he can't get a sun lamp.

Analyze Tax Situation Is Advice By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 26.—First, let me say a word to young businessmen who claim that they have not the opportunity of making a fortune which their elders had.

They claim that at their age the money which elders were permitted to save for a business nest egg is now taken away by the government in the form of taxes. Let me say this is merely an alibi for laziness, inefficiency and extravagant ideas.

Severe Taxes Benefit Young People

Let us assume a man with a salary of $2,000 who has a wife and two children. His federal tax would be about $350. It is true that he has this much less money to save or invest toward buying an interest in some business. On the other hand although the net income, after taxes of the young executive is reduced by a tax of about 12 per cent, his employer would probably be obliged to pay a tax of 50 per cent to 75 per cent of his net income. This reduces the value of the business to the employer and causes him to sell it much cheaper than if these heavy taxes did not exist.

Before these federal taxes went into effect a man could die and leave his business outright to his family as the death taxes were very small. Today, however, in a great many cases the family is compelled to sell a part interest in the business in order to secure funds to pay the death taxes. This gives an exceptional opportunity to young executives employed in the business to secure an interest at a very low price.

Low Rates Help Young People

The present federal ceiling on interest rates enables young people today to buy a home or business and pay for it with an interest rate of perhaps only half what they would be obliged to pay before these taxes went into effect. I, myself, am a director of a bank which has today voted to loan a young man money at 3 per cent in order to buy an interest in a department store. This same money would have cost him 6 per cent fifteen years ago.

Business success is not a matter of legislation; but rather of heredity industry, integrity and vision. Whatever our system of government, a certain group, who save, work and intelligently plan, will always be on top. All young people have a greater opportunity to succeed in the true sense today than ever before. Even children of the well-to-do may be better off under high federal taxes. There is such a thing as leaving children too much money.

Taking Profits Vs. Losses

Now, just a word to those employers and investors who have large tax bills: Previous Decembers I have called attention to the importance of taking losses in order to offset certain gains. In many cases this should be done today. On the other hand, a new factor enters the situation this year which has never happened before. This year an amendment to the federal tax law threw out 75 per cent of one full tax year so as to get on a "pay-as-you-go" basis. After much struggle, it was agreed to throw out 75 per cent of either 1942 or 1943, "whichever is the smaller". This means that one must estimate his 1943 income and compare the same with his 1942 income and pay the 25 per cent excess tax on whichever is the larger. Now, I find my friends are instinctively doing the wrong thing by trying to show their 1943 income as small as possible when in many cases much money could be saved in taxes by showing it as large as possible. Let me illustrate:

When a taxpayer last December sold securities at a profit, he was obliged to pay 25 per cent in taxes on said profit. This December however, if his 1943 income is larger than his 1942 income, he is obliged to pay a tax of only 25 per cent of said 25 per cent as the government "forgives" 75 per cent of either 1942 or 1943 whichever is the smaller. This means that this is a year when taxes can sometimes be saved by taking profits as well as by taking losses if taxpayers will go at it intelligently. Hence, consult your lawyer, banker or accountant.

Multipling Dollars

Even industry gets one break in the present tax law, namely, the privilege of replacing old machinery with new machinery, old merchandise with new merchandise and all kinds of scrap with profitable items and having the government pay most of the cost. By selling these out-moded things at the present time, a business concern may save from 40-90 per cent over what may be possible after the war is over. Do so this December as after World War II you may not either have the money to buy the new equipment or the above-mentioned tax advantage.

Now, just a word for heirs and charities. The present law allows every taxpayer to give $3,000 this year to any person without paying a gift tax which in many cases would ordinarily run from 20-50 per cent. It further allows the giving of 15 per cent of one's income to charities which gift is tax-exempt. For instance, a person in a 50 per cent bracket can give away $1,000 with it costing him only $500. Furthermore, if a taxpayer gives away securities instead of cash he can (1) avoid the tax which he would pay on the profit; (2) be allowed contribution deduction for the market value of the securities; and (3) then invest the money he would ordinarily contribute in this same security, thus establishing a higher cost-price for future sale. When one considers the tax deduction for contributions, plus the saving through not selling, and tops these savings off by replacing after 30 days, the same securities he may find that it is indeed possible to save through generous giving to your relatives, your church or some useful charity.

Thanksgiving Theme At Temple Israel

Theme of the regular Sabbath service at Temple Israel this evening at 8 o'clock will be Thanksgiving. Rabbi Leo E. Turitz will deliver the sermon on "Thanksgiving in Wartime."

People of Jewish faith are aware of the influence of Biblical literature in early colonial American life for the Puritans lived their daily lives in the spirit of the Old Testament. The Pilgrims compared themselves to Israel in the wilderness and, in celebrating the first Thanksgiving, referred to Biblical passages that pertain to the harvest festivals of Israel of old.

There will be regular religious school session Saturday at 10 a. m.

REOPEN PROBE OF DEATH OF YOUTH

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 26.—(INS)—A hazing case in which a 15-year-old high school student, who later died, was the reputed victim, was reopened today at a hearing in the county court before Juvenile Judge Fred V. Heinemann.

The student, Wayne Rogers, died Oct. 6 and an investigation was conducted by the district attorney's office which reported the youth died from natural causes, the result of a kidney ailment.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rogers, expressed themselves as "extremely dissatisfied" and the father swore out complaints against two Appleton youths, older than Wayne, who were alleged to have taken part in the reported mistreatment of young Rogers.

FBI IS SEEKING WOMEN HELPERS

Women between the ages of 16 and 40 years, who have completed a high school education are being sought by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, for work at the National Headquarters in Washington D. C. Applications will also be taken from girls graduating in the mid-term or June classes of next year, it is stated.

These women are needed for finger print classification work at the capital. Those interested will be interviewed at The Castleton, the remainder of today, and from 8:30 o'clock on tomorrow.

POLICE PROBING TRIPLE MURDER

Ohio Hog Breeder, Wife And Daughter Are Found Shot To Death

WASHINGTON, C. H., O., Nov. 26.—(INS)—A tragic Thanksgiving day murder of a well known Ohio hog breeder, his wife, and their 22-year-old daughter was probed by police today who ordered a search for four persons known to have quarreled with the family.

The dead were Elmer McCoy, his wife, Forrest, 64, and their daughter, Mildred, home economics teacher at Pittsburg, O., high school and a 1943 graduate of Ohio State university.

The trio were apparently shot to death sometime after 9 p. m. Wednesday night on McCoy's "Oak View" farm. Their bodies were found yesterday by Dewey Clayton, a farm laborer.

Prosecutor John B. Hill described the slaying as a deliberate act of revenge and said two of the four persons sought had threatened McCoy's life and the victim had carried a pistol for protection.

Telephone wires inside the McCoy home were found cut. Mrs. McCoy was shot by .32 calibre steel-jacketed bullets, Acting Coroner Dr. E. H. McDonald said. He added that one .38 caliber lead slug was taken from Miss McCoy's head and another from her father's head, thus indicating the assailant used two weapons.

Sheriff W. H. Icenhower said he intended to send the fatal bullets to ballistics experts for tests in an effort to trace the guns.

"I've talked to more than a hundred persons and not one of them had any idea as to why they were murdered," he said. "They were well-to-do and highly respected people and had lived in this community all their lives."

Investigators placed the time of the shooting at about the time Miss McCoy arrived in her automobile from Pittsburg. The teacher's body lay between her car and the gate leading from the barnyard. Her mother's body was found in a pool of blood, pierced by 12 bullets. The father's body was found inside the barn.

A triple funeral for the victims will be held Saturday in Washington C. H.

Daughter Of Pioneer Family In County Is Here From West

Mrs. Edith Harbison Hinkel of San Diego, Calif., daughter of a pioneer Lawrence county family and a descendant of the famed Massy Harbison, is a guest in New Castle at the present time with her son Captain Edward H. Hinkel. For a short time they will visit relatives and friends here.

Mrs. Hinkel is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harbison, who went to California in 1851. Mr. Harbison was the first man to transport bees from the east coast to the west, travelling by boat from New York City and crossing the Isthmus of Panama.

The Harbison family is one of the oldest and most respected in this county. Members of the family are found in all parts of western Pennsylvania.

Farmers Can Slaughter Hogs

Restrictions On Marketing Lifted For Three-Month Period

Announcement was received today by Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the Lawrence County Agricultural Conservation Office, from the War Food Administration at Washington, announcing a 90-day suspension of all restrictions covering the farm slaughter of hogs.

During this period, producers may kill for their own use, or for sale or transfer to others, all the hogs they are able to handle. No license or permit is required and the previous limitation of 400-pounds per producer has been lifted for this three-month period.

This action applies to hogs only and not any other livestock. Farmers are urged during this period to spread their marketing of a record pig crop to prevent overloading of marketing and slaughtering facilities.

Warning is issued that they must collect the required number of points for all pork they sell during this period for which they will be held accountable.

MUSTERING OUT PAY IS PROPOSED

Maximum Is Set At $300 With Graduated Sums For Less Service

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Chairman May (D) Ky., of the house military affairs committee made public today provisions of a White House bill to give men in the armed forces a maximum mustering-out pay of $300. The measure, May said, will be introduced immediately.

The legislation, covering the first objective in President Roosevelt's three-point program of aid for demobilized service men and women, would give the following to all members of the armed forces up to and including captains in the army and equivalent ranks in other branches:

1. Mustering-out pay of $300 for those in active service during the war for six months or more.

2. For service of more than four months but less than six months, $200.

3. And for service of less than four months, a payment of $100.

President Roosevelt's other two recommended benefits, outlined in a message to congress Tuesday, were unemployment payments and credit for time in the service under the social security act.

New Legion Post Growing Steadily

Membership in the recently formed James O. Phillips post of the American Legion is increasing and at the meeting held on November 23 in the Lincoln-Garfield school, glowing reports were received by the commander, Tony D'Andrea. A group of new members was inducted on the meeting night.

Dr. A. M. Perifano addressed the meeting as did George L. Smith, who holds the Distinguished Cross for gallantry in action in World War I. Both expressed their pleasure at the formation of a post on the South Side and predicted a successful future for the post. The next meeting will be held Tuesday night, December 14.

Collegiate Wartime Grid Season Closes Saturday

Army-Navy Classic, Irish-Great Lakes Dominate Spotlight

Carver Picks Army And Notre Dame; Penn, Texas, Colgate Winners

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—This wartime football season will come to an end tomorrow—except for scattered post-season games—with most of the nation's attention focused on West Point, N. Y., where Army and Navy will meet in the restricted confines of Michie Stadium.

The two service elevens will tangle up before some 20,000 spectators instead of four times that many, the approximate aggregate attendance for this engagement in peace times.

Both clubs are tough; both have good lines and capable backs and both were beaten by Notre Dame. They have much in common. Navy rules a slight favorite. The writer likes Army.

With that as the day's headline attraction, there will be other engagements elsewhere of sectional note and some of national flavor. Still others met yesterday in Thanksgiving Day skirmishes.

Penn-Texas Win

In one of the Turkey Day highlights Penn beat Cornell, 20 to 14 while in another Texan won the southwest conference title and earned the right to play host in the Cotton Bowl by beating Texas A. & M., 27 to 13.

In other major engagements, Colgate beat Brown, 21 to 14; North Carolina Pre-Flight beat North Carolina States, 21 to 7; Oklahoma A and M. beat Denver, 7 to 6; South Carolina beat Wake Forest, 13 to 2; St. Mary's beat Utah, 34 to 0; Tulsa beat Arkansas, 61 to 0; Bucknell beat Franklin and Marshall, 21 to 13; and Fort Riley beat Kansas, 22 to 2.

Next to the Army-navy game on Saturday, the big one will be Notre Dame's closing engagement of the season with Great Lakes on the receiving end. The latter could perpetrate the all-time miracle by winning, but doesn't seem to have a chance against the eleven that has taken them in stride.

I pick Army over Navy and Notre Dame over Great Lakes and then down Pre-Flight over Minnesota

Grid Tidbits

(International News Service)

SAILORS BANGED UP

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 26.—Great Lakes' showing in tomorrow's final game with Notre Dame depended largely today on the amount of work the Bluejackets could get out of their three injured star halfbacks, Steve Lach, Steve Juzwik and Ray Jones. All three were patched up sufficiently for limited service but it was doubtful that they would start.

IRISH ALL SET

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Notre Dame players checked their assignments today in a final drill for tomorrow's finale with Great Lakes at Ross Field. The No. I Irish backfield of Johnny Lujack, Creighton Miller, Julie Rykovich and Jim Mello was slated to start.

GOPHERS CRIPPLED

MINNEAPOLIS—Two ailing stars, Bob Lossie and Chuck Avery, still were doubtful starters for Minnesota today as the Gophers went through a final tapering off drill for tomorrow's battle with the Iowa Seahawks at Minneapolis.

FAUROT NAMES 34

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Lieut. Don Faurot today led a squad of 34 Iowa Seahawks for a commando raid on the fortress of the Minnesota Gophers. Lieut. Faurot said Virgil Wagner will start at right half in tomorrow's game, replacing Ted Curran, who has been shifted to left halfback to supplement little Bud Higgins.

Fitz-New Boss, To Meet Today

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Bob Carpenter, new Phillies' president, and Manager Freddie Fitzsimmons will meet for the first time today.

The youthful owner of the Quaker City ball club will join Fitzsimmons in a press conference this afternoon. Carpenter admitted yesterday that he is seeking the services of Herb Pennock of the Boston Red Sox as general manager of the Phils.

Titans Prepare To Open Season

Freshmen To Comprise Staring Lineup For Westminster On Saturday

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 26.—Four freshmen and one sophomore will be in the starting lineup when the Westminster Titans open their 1943-44 basketball season against Camp Reynolds, Saturday, November 27, on the home floor.

But to offset the lack of experience this year, Coach Grover C. Washabaugh will be able to field the tallest team in the seven years of coaching Titan teams. The starting five will average better than 6-4.

Captain Don "Rube" Bennett, sophomore holdover from last year gets the nod at one of the guard post along with Fred Paine, Hollidays Cove; or Henry Vitkovich, Ellwood City. Freshmen Dave Davis, Greensburg, and Ed Little, Duquesne, are the starting forwards, while 6-foot 8-inch Noble Jorgensen, Pittsburgh, takes care of the pivot post.

Many Reserves

To relieve the starters Coach Washabaugh can call on five civilian reserves and several talented naval aviation cadets stationed on the campus. Among the eligible cadets are Bob Artman, high scorer and captain of the Pitt Panthers last year; Bill Haddad, with Geneva last year; Bob Boland, former Albright cager; Vince Gatuso, Ellwood City; Ted Meyers, Pittsburgh; Chester Johnston, Boyers, and Mike Capobianco, Akron.

Civilian reserves are Freshmen Eugene Wilson and Bill Jarrett New Castle; Bob Hill, Titusville; Eldon Sturrock, Waterford, and Sophomore Gail Schuler, Warren.

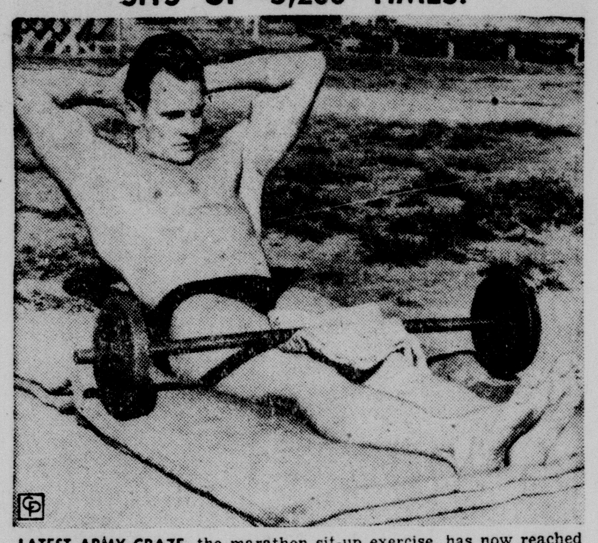

As a preliminary attraction before the feature game, the naval cadets will oppose the 3324th AST unit stationed on the campus. Camp Reynolds defeated the army trainees, 47-33, last Saturday, when Pvt. Clarence Butler, Murray State Teachers college, scored 27 points for Camp Reynolds.

Playing on the AST squad are Bill Dorna, East Kentucky State Teachers college; Roy Adkins, Purdue; James Wheeler, University of Illinois; Charles Tyner, Ball State university, and Ralph Dean, Earlham college.

BOY BREAKS LEG

James Goff, aged 14 years, of 308 Leasure avenue suffered a fracture of the left leg above the knee while playing football Thursday afternoon. He was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital where he was admitted for treatment.

'Cementers Open Campaign On November 30; Prospects Not Too Gloomy

With three of 13 lettermen almost certain to hang around, Bessemer high's basketball prospects are not too gloomy.

Veterans participating in daily drills include:

Wilbur Anderson, Rock Commesso, Arthur Conners, Ray Cracraft, Rocco Gatto, Harold Johnson, John Kresevich, James Lorella, Richard and Rocky Mittica, Wilbur Miller, John Pezzulo and Dominick Ruzzino.

Anderson, Rocky Mittica, Miller and Ruzzino will be over 18 and may be in the armed forces.

Kresevich Holdover

John Kresevich, lanky center, is the lone holdover from last year's varsity while Harold Johnson is stepping up from the second team.

Jack Grubisa, Ben List and Paul Tasota received sheepskins last June and filling their varsity shoes is quite a problem for Coach Joe Weresuk.

The 'Cementers will play an exceptionally stiff schedule, featuring contests with New Castle and Ellwood City, starting on November 30 with a setto with North Lima.

Schedule:

Fair or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The banishment of Bill Cox from baseball for life is a tough blow for a young and ambitious club owner. The implications in Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis' edict are a little sordid in that he has kicked out the Phillies' president for gambling. Beyond all that, it adds up to one thing: Cox had his fling and didn't measure up.

The 34-year-old New York lumber man became completely unpopular with nearly everybody in the game and associated with it even remotely in faster time than any other man ever to enter the majors.

You have to admire Commissioner Landis and baseball for their insistance that anything bearing the slightest taint must not be permitted to survive.

"I admitted to Commissioner Landis," said Cox, "that during the early part of the season, in ignorance of the rule prohibiting betting, I made a few comparatively small and sentimental bets on my team to win, and that when I found out that it was a violation of the rule I ceased.

Boosted Club

"When I took over the Phillies they were almost a dead organization, with the hot breath of the sheriff on the backs of their necks. We had only eight players at the beginning of our training season. They have just completed their most prosperous season. Now we have a good team under a fighting, capable manager, Freddie Fitzsimmons.

"My friends know that I worked night and day to build up the team and its financial condition. Most of the money I have put in myself. I now find that because I admitted backing my team with a few bets, I have been barred from the game I love for the rest of my life."

Wampum Quint To Play 18 Tilts

Coach L. B. Hennon's one-handed flipping artists are sharpening their eyes for the coming bounce semester and reports from the Wampum comunity indicate that the Indians will be in there pitching.

Last season's Section 21 runner up quintet was broken up by graduation and the army. Hennon, however, seems to have found capable replacements, thus assuring the cement making town of another high scoring team.

Scala Back

Scala is back from the '42 combination and hopes to fill Coy Craine's post at center. Bennett, a 5 foot 10 performer, is exceptionally fast and a fair shot. Grinnen, another 5 foot 10 hoopster, seems to be in the lead for one of the guard posts. Porter is a favorite for the other sentinel berth.

Savor, Rouser and Johnson are outstanding reserves.

Thus far, Hennon has scheduled the following 18 games:

Fri. Dec. 3—Wampum at Beaver.
Tues. Dec. 7—Ellwood City at Wampum.
Fri. Dec. 10—Wampum at Monaca.
Tues. Dec. 14—Beaver at Wampum.
Fri. Dec. 17—Wampum at Ellwood City.
Tues. Dec 21—Monaca at Wampum.

Tues. Jan. 11—Union at Wampum.
Fri Jan. 14—Wampum at Shenango.
Tues. Jan. 18—East Brook at Wampum.
Fri. Jan. 21—Wampum at Bessemer.
Tues. Jan. 25—New Wilmington at Wampum.

Penn Rally Tops Cornellians, 20-14

Turkey Day Clash In Philadelphia Attracts 60,000 Excited Fans

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—(INS)—With a record of six victories against two defeats and a tie, Penn's gridiron warriors today drew the curtain on the red and blue's 1943 season after coming from behind to defeat Cornell, 20-14.

Sixty thousand fans saw the Quakers turn the Big Red's only fumble into a game-winning touchdown midway in the last quarter of the golden anniversary game of the traditional Penn-Cornell Thanksgiving Day series—the longest unbroken classic in the history of the game.

Bob Odell, Penn's star backfield ace, virtually single-handedly gave the invaders their first score. Twice in succession, Bob dropped punts which were recovered by Harry Furman, the Cornellians left guard. The punts moved the sphere from the Ithacans end of the field to Penn's 16-yard stripe and Howard Blose scored five plays later.

The final score of the game came shortly after Penn recovered a Cornell fumble on Cornell's 27-yard line. Shaking off their shackles the red and blue eleven rushed the sphere to the three-yard stripe from where Joe Michaels smashed thru for the skin-saving touchdown.

Church Cage Race Opens On Monday

New Castle Church Basketball league rivals start battling for the highly regarded championship Monday night on the Y.M.C.A. court.

The Third U.P. and St. George Orthodox open the race at 8 o'clock. The Epworths and First Baptists match skill in the second encounter listed at 8:45 o'clock and Croton Methodist faces St. Lucy's in the finale at 9:30.

Sports Ramblings

Turkey Day Jottings:—

On his feet again following an appendicitis operation, Dave Genkinger is home from Great Lakes Naval Training station on a six-day sick leave . . . Bob "General" Lee, ex-'Cane gone-with-the-wind pigskin lugger, is improving from a collar bone fracture suffered last week while tossing a pay dirt pass. Lee has been starring with the undefeated Montford Point eleven at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is getting writer's cramp shooting letters to all Western Pennsylvania points in an effort to fill next season's Ne-Ca-Hi dates. Butler, Clairton, Aliquippa, Youngstown East and Sharon are carry overs. Withdrawal of Beaver Falls and Washington has left two Class AA WPIAL holes hard to fill. When the two loop frays are carded, it would be nice if Mr. G. would drop a note to Massillon. The Ohioans may be interested.

Final grid guessing edition:—

Notre Dame over Great Lakes—Any dope knows that. The Irish are due for a letdown but have enough to cop by a 21-7 count.

Navy over Army-Hamberg's pitching, the Middies' stout line and better reserve strength. My guess, 19-13.

Oklahoma over Nebraska—The well-rested Sooners to avenge last season's 7-0 upset, 35-6.

Lafayette over Lehigh—Why not? They did it before 39-7 and should repeat by a 35-0 margin.

Iowa Seahawks over Minnesota—The tired Sailors, playing minus Dick Todd, to cop by 20-6 edge.

Georgia Tech over Georgia—An average fattener, 41-0.

North Carolina over Virginia—A waltz number, 34-6.

S. M. U. over Texas Christians—By flipping the coin and dipping into the hat, 7-6.

Southwestern over Rice — Let's say, 33-6.

March Field over San Diego—Could be a humdinger, 20-7.

Del Monte over California—Because I like fruits by that name. The score: 40-6.

Southern California over UCLA—Warming up for the Rose Bowl, 14-6.

Season record — 247 right; 42 wrong, 4 ties. Four games canceled last week.

"Can I get anti-freeze this winter?"

Restrictions on raw materials needed in the war program have affected supplies of all brands of anti-freeze. However, enough anti-freeze of the types approved by the War Production Board should be available to meet the needs of motor car operators if there is no overbuying or hoarding—the main causes of shortages of anti-freeze.

▶ Motorists should take good care of the anti-freeze they can get. They should see to it that the cooling system is thoroughly tight, so that anti-freeze won't leak out. They should have the fan belt, hose connections, cylinder head gaskets and radiator carefully serviced, and should have adjustments and replacements made as needed.

If you saved anti-freeze from last winter, the solution may need strengthening for another winter's protection. It is possible to bring it up to strength with War Emergency "Zerone." Consult your dealer who handles Du Pont anti-freeze. He has a Du Pont protection chart which shows how much to add.

FREE! New Book, "Take Care of Your Cooling System," gives special, money-saving tips every motorist should know. Just send a penny postal card to Room 2496, Nemours Bldg., E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), Wilmington, Del.

DU PONT ANTI-FREEZE PROTECTS TWO WAYS AGAINST FREEZING AND RUST

War Emergency "Zerone"—an ethanol product—temporarily taking the place of regular "Zerone." War Emergency "Zerone" will give you good wartime anti-freeze, anti-rust protection at low cost. Price $1.40 a gallon.

"Zerex"—Du Pont's premium-priced anti-freeze, made from ethylene glycol. It is non-evaporating. One filling lasts all winter. "Zerex" is anti-acid, as well as anti-rust. Price $2.65 a gallon.

Remember—during this war period your dealer may not always be able to furnish the particular brand of anti-freeze you want—when you want it.

A word to the Wives:

Give him CLOTHES

This year no one should take a chance on giving a gift that may not be needed. So our sincere advice to the ladies is: give your husband clothes. You probably know even better than he just what he needs. If shirt collars have been looking doubtful as they return from the laundry, Christmas is a fine time to re-stock his bureau drawers with shirts. If you're tired of seeing the same old ties, Christmas is fine excuse for some new, cheerful ones that he'll welcome, too. Or perhaps he's been putting off getting a new suit. That would be a magnificent gift from you! Come in with him . . . . or give a merchandise certificate.

Lakes' Mentor Displays Humor Before Irish Tilt

Hinkle Won't Say Whether His Sailors Will Defeat Notre Dame

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Lt. Paul "Tony" Hinkle, coach of the Great Lakes football team, exhibited a brand of humor today faintly reminscent of Maxie Baer just before he stepped into the ring against Joe Louis.

Hinkle wouldn't say exactly whether he figured his Sailors would beat Notre Dame tomorrow, but he did gibe about his scouts.

"From their reports," Hinkle quipped, "it appears no play nor any ball carrier we've got will gain an inch of ground against the Irish. I guess we'll just have to kick off or punt and try to keep out of the way so we won't get hurt."

No one in the naval station here expects Notre Dame to ease up at all tomorrow. It's the last game for the Irish and they have too much at stake, namely:

Risk Clean Slate

The protection of a perfect record, the first such at Notre Dame since 1930, that would bring to South Bend the first national championship since that year.

Also, eighteen first downs would give the Irish a total of 186 for the season and a new collegiate mark. The Frank Leahy men already have gained 3,009 by rushing, and all they need tomorrow is 92 to break the record.

The Sailors' line is tough and heavy and has carried Great Lakes to victories over all but two of its eleven opponents to date. The Sailors' backfield is pretty well banged up, but no man is definitely out of the competition.

The Sailors and Irish will clash before an exclusive crowd of some 22,000 officers and men at Ross Field. No civilians will be admitted, which may prove helpful to Navy morale come sundown tomorrow.

Zivic And Musial On Secret Journey

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Fritzie Zivic, former welterweight champion, and Stan Musial, the St. Louis Cardinals' batting champ, were New York-bound today, both refusing to discuss their missions in detail.

Zivic, accompanied by his wife, said his trip was a combination vacation and business affair. He hinted also that he may consider enlisting in the Coast Guard.

Musial was loaded with baggage. Saying he was pledged to secrecy, he refused to discuss his journey. However, he has been mentioned as a potential member of a picked major leaguers squad expected to tour overseas army camps.

New York Rangers Lose 10th In Row

There were no changes in the National Hockey League today after two games last night one of which saw the New York Rangers go down to their tenth straight defeat. The Rangers have not won a game this season.

The Boston Bruins defeated the Rangers, 6 to 2, at Boston. In one of the most action-packed games of the year, the Chicago Black Hawks downed the Detroit Red Wings, 4 to 3.

EBENSBURG FIRST

ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Ebensburg was first today in a close race in final percentage standings of the Western Pennsylvania Football Conference. With 220 points.

BAUGH CLOSER TO PASS TITLE IN PRO LEAGUE

Redskin Rifle Only 11 Completions Behind Sid Luckman Of Bears

CHICAGO, Nov. 24. — (INS) — "Slinging" Sammy Baugh today was virtually assured of the National football league forward passing championship.

When the man with the right arm like a whip hobbled his crippled body from the bench three times to help his Washington Redskin teammates to their surprise victory over the powerful Chicago Bears last Sunday, he almost lifted himself into a tie with the Bears, great Sid Luckman.

Luckman had just about been handed the passing title on a silver platter by one and all following his terrific performance of seven touchdown passes against the New York Giants a week earlier.

Trails By

However, league figures today showed that Baugh is only 11 completions behind Luckman, who has only one more game to play.

Baugh has three games in which to reclaim the title wrested from him in 1941 by Cecil Isbell, now retired from the players' ranks.

Meanwhile, Luckman needs only one more touchdown pass against the Chicago Cardinals Sunday to set a new record for one season, now being tied with the Isbell mark of 24 pay dirt heaves.

Luckman and Baugh now shape up as follows: Luckman, 181 attempts, 100 completions, 1,953 yards gained, completion percentage, 552. Baugh, 159 attempts, 89 completions, 1,175 yards gained, completion percentage, .559.

Bucknell Hands F.-M. Initial Setback, 21-13

Upset Spoils Diplomats' Chances For Bid To Cotton Bowl Feature

LANCASTER, Pa., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Hopes of keeping the laurels of the east's only unbeaten or tied eleven in the 1943 grid campaign were shattered today for Franklin & Marshall together with chances for a bid to Miami's Cotton Bowl.

The fighting diplomats from Lancaster breezed through eight consecutive tilts only to be outmaneuvered by a plucky Bucknell University eleven yesterday 21 to 13. In their last engagement this season, the diplomats won 12 to 6.

Score Early

The Bucknell Bisons, sparked by Navy Trainee Gene Hubka who ran the opening kickoff 90 yards to paydirt, scored two touchdowns in the first two minutes of play and kept their advantage throughout the tilt.

Bucknell added seven points in the third quarters and then stymied a last period rally by the Diplomats who took to the air for their two touchdowns.

Prior to the game, Bucknell had won five and lost four while the Diplomats were racking up 136 points to 47 by their opponents in their eight victories.

Angott-Ruffin Fight On Friday, Dec. 17

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The 10-round fight between Sammy Angott and Bobby Ruffin, scheduled for Monday night at Madison Square Garden was postponed today until Dec. 17.

Garden officials said the postponement was made necessary because Ruffin suffered severe burns on his chest from a violet ray lamp. Dr. William Walker, boxing commission physician examined Ruffin and ordered the fight delayed until Ruffin fully recovered.

Beau Jack and Ruffin originally were scheduled to fight Dec. 17 at the Garden but the postponement of the Ruffin-Angott bout will force the Garden to stage the Beau Jack-Ruffin tilt Jan. 7.

TEXAS LONGHORNS COTTON BOWL HOST

Texas Aggies-L. S. U. Selected To Play In Orange Bowl Classic

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 26.—(INS)—The Texas Aggies were the choice today to meet the Louisiana State University Tigers in the tenth annual Orange Bowl classic in Miami next Jan. 1.

Selection of the Aggies, who were defeated yesterday by the University of Texas, 27 to 13, at College Station, Tex., was announced by Chairman Jack Baldwin of the Orange Bowl schedule committee. Selection of LSU was made public last Saturday, the day the Tigers were defeated by Tulane, 27 to 0.

By its victory yesterday, Texas U automatically became the host team for the Cotton Bowl game in Dallas.

Tech Is Favored To Rout Georgia

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 26.—Fifty years ago, the Yellow Jackets of Georgia Tech and the Bulldogs of the University of Georgia clashed on the gridiron, for the first time, before a handful of unenthused fans.

Saturday afternoon spectators will swarm onto Grant Field to see those same institutions meet in what has developed into the most heated rivalry in the nation.

Georgia and Tech have met 37 times in those 50 years. Georgia has won 19 of those contests, Tech 13, and five have been ties. The series has been unbroken from 1925, Georgia winning 10, losing five, and tying three. In the past decade the Rambling Wreck has come out on top only twice, tying a pair, and losing six.

Only three times in this unbroken series, since 1925, have more than two touchdowns separated the elevens at the finish. This seems certain to be the fourth. Tech, with her head among the country's great, should be able to name the score. There is nothing in the Bulldogs' favor. They are outweighed, outmanned—and altogether outclassed.

Cornell Defeats Penn—In Soccer

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26.—(INS)—Cornell's sports enthusiasts didn't return home empty-handed today.

The Big Red, while losing its traditional Thanksgiving Day football game to Pennsylvania, 20-14, scored a 1-0 victory over Quaker booters yesterday at River Field to earn a tie with Penn for first place in the Intercollegiate Soccer League.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

R. A. Coward's chestnut Frank's Boy won the inaugural $2,000 added Thanksgiving Day handicap at the New Orleans fair grounds yesterday

Dick Whitehead is the only starter left from last season's Sharon high school basketball team which has a 20-game schedule. Sharon will be here January 4.

Because his actions were considered detrimental in the interest of horse racing Anson Kurtz of Newark, N. J., has been ruled off the turf at Buckingham Park, N. J., according to stewards there.

Bill Jeffrey's Penn State soccer teams have been defeated only thrice in 11 years. Army turned the trick twice.

ARMY-NAVY GAME SATURDAY FEATURE

That's not the Minnesota of old It's a war-time substitute.

Also, Oklahoma sohuld beat Nebraska, Georgia Tech should take Georgia in a southern fixture, and the North Carolina team that beat Penn should be able to take Virginia.

Southern California might eke out a win over U. C. L. A., S. M. U. figures over Texas Christian, Southwestern over Rice, and that about winds up football for the 1943 season.

Irish Supply Lift

This has been a screwy year for the gridiron game. Aside from Notre Dame's tremendous surge there has been little to keep up interest. Too many players have been shuttled back and forth from one team to another to eliminate the old college spirit, as it is known.

Also there have been few real good games. Notre Dame and the Iowa Seahawks and Purdue and a handful more. The rest were strictly in there pitching for the leavings.

Notre Dame supplied a tremendous lift for the season. The Irish really kept things humming for everybody. That they were good there is no denying. The only questions seem to be whether they were as good as Notre Dame's best in the past.

Personally I don't think so. They did meet competition up to par. But they were this good. The best of the year.

INDUSTRIAL QUINTS TO DRILL TONIGHT

Industrial league cage teams practice tonight on the Y.M.C.A. court. The schedule:

7 to 8—Johnson Bronze Co.
8 to 9—Radiators.
9 to 10—Aluminum Works.

RATED HIGH

Jack Chabek and Dave Hardy both from Ohio and both football players, were rated well above average in the strength test given to nearly 600 navy-marine trainees on the Penn State campus.

Approving and establishing the lines, grades, drainage structures, and all other structures appearing on the Plan of the Department of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, showing proposed improvement on Montgomery avenue in the City of New Castle, Pennsylvania; adopting the said Plan as the Official City Plan for said street; and approving and opening as a Public Highway the said State Highway Route and providing for the removal of structures, insofar as the said State Highway is within the corporate limits of the said City.

WHEREAS, the Department of Highways has submitted to the City Council of New Castle City a plan showing the proposed improvement of a portion of State Highway Route No. 77 on Montgomery avenue, from Station 468-87 to Station 497-29.5 a distance of 2842.5 feet, as shown by the said plan prepared and submitted by the Department of Highways, approved November 4, 1943, by the Chief Engineer of the Department of Highways, a part of which Highway is within the corporate limits of the City of New Castle.

SECTION 1. Now Therefore Be It Ordained and Enacted by the Council of the City of New Castle that the widths, lines, grades, courses, distances, drainage structures, and all other structures shown on the Plans prepared and submitted by the Department of Highways, as aforesaid, be and the same are adopted and are hereby enacted and ordained as and for the true and proper widths, lines, grades, courses, distances, drainage structures, and other structures of and for Montgomery avenue as shown on the said Plan, which Plan is hereby adopted as the Official City Plan for the said street, and has been designated in the office of the City Engineer as Drawings No. 2646, insofar as the said State Highway is within the corporate limits of the said City.

SECTION 2. The Mayor of the said City is hereby authorized to express the approval of the City to the said plans of the aforesaid State Highway Route by affixing his signature, as Mayor, and the common City Seal to the said plan.

SECTION 3. Any portion of the said street included in the aforesaid plan, but not heretofore lawfully opened, is hereby ordered and declared open as a Public Highway, and the City hereby assumes responsibility for the removal of all structures wherever necessary for the opening or improvement of the said street in accordance with the aforesaid plan.

SECTION 4. All ordinances or parts of ordinances, insofar as they are inconsistent herewith, are hereby repealed.

SLIGHT DECLINE MARKET FEATURE

Losses Are Fractional And Pressure In Market Is Light This Morning

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—(INS)—The stock market extended its decline into the fourth straight session today, although losses were fractional and the pressure light. Rails, weak spots in Wednesday's sell-off, again were chief targets of the selling.

Trading was quiet.

The market's continued decline reflected mixed opinion around the financial district on an end to the war with Germany and to news on a rumored tri-partite conference.

Practically every pivotal in the carrier group shared in the decline, although individual losses were small. Atchison lost a large fraction on a lower earnings report, while Union Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Erie had smaller losses.

Chemicals were mixed with Dow Chemical dropping more than a point. Steels, utilities, farm equipments and rail equipments lost fractionally, while oils, firm Wednesday, were under slight profit-taking pressure.

Liquors were lower with American Distilling, the most spectacular stock on the board in recent weeks, losing over 3 points before recovering a good part of the loss.

Strength in Brazilian bonds featured an otherwise quiet, easier bond market.

WOMAN FATALLY STRICKEN AT HER MOTHER'S FUNERAL

DICKSON CITY, Pa., Nov. 26.—(INS)—Four sons of Mrs. Elizabeth Rudick, of Dickson City, sadly prepared today to bury their mother, only a day after they officiated as pallbearers at funeral rites for their grandmother.

Mrs. Rudick was stricken yesterday with a heart attack as the body of her mother, Mrs. Susan Palovitz, was being carried into church. Removed from a funeral car, she was rushed to a hospital but was dead upon arrival.

Her four sons were unaware of her death until after they left the cemetery. She was the mother of 12 children, including three in the armed forces.

MINERS LOAF AGAIN

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 26.—(INS)—After ignoring an appeal from the federal government to stay on the job, and taking a Thanksgiving holiday, more than 3,500 coal miners were returning to work today in a score of Western Pennsylvania pits.
